

Give Charter Rotary Club In Newmarket

The newly-organized Rotary Club of Newmarket has been granted its charter by the board of directors of Rotary International. President of the club is James S. Law, vice president of Dixon Penick Company.

Other officers are: vice pres., Dr. C. E. VanderVoort; treas., Allan Cossar; sec., Harold Eaton; directors, James Otton and J. L. R. Bell. The club will meet every Monday at 12:15 at Bell's Corners. There are 27 charter members.

A charter Night is being planned for April 15 at the Legion Hall.

The Newmarket Club is now a member of the vast Rotary organization which has 7,455 clubs with a membership of 353,000 business and professional executives in 83 countries and geographical regions.

Rotary membership today stands at an all-time high. In the last 14 months, 306 new Rotary clubs have been organized in 36 countries of North, South and Central America, Europe, Africa, Asia and the Islands of the Pacific.

NEWMARKET GROUP PLANS FOR FOUR SERIES CONCERTS

The Newmarket Concert Association will present four concerts featuring well-known Canadian artists next year. A meeting of executive and directors on Saturday decided to continue the series next year with four instead of three concerts. The executive was re-elected for the coming year and the same board of directors were appointed along with two additional members.

Association membership renewal cards for next season will be available at the final concert this season on April 4.

Membership will be $5 for four concerts next year; this year's membership was $4 for three concerts.

PEOPLE AROUND TOWN

Prospector Makes Home Here, Spends Warm Months In North

Wouldn't it be nice to work about five months of the year and own a rock garden of gold ore?

Most of us envy the sort of position where you work half the year and relax the rest. There's a chap in Newmarket who is in that enviable position and he's not a tycoon or an industrialist; he didn't inherit a fortune (that we know of) and he's not a millionaire, (yet).

No, this particular fellow is a prospector, name's Croto, Paul Croto; lives on Wellington St. Mr. and Mrs. Croto have lived here about a year and a half. They decided they would rather live farther south in the more populated area and gave up the north country as a home.

In the summer, though, Mr. Croto goes into the north country and spends the warm months prospecting. He has been at the "game" since 1926 and since that time has made discoveries for companies which led to the opening of new mines.

During most of his career, he has prospected for mining associations but for the past three years, has been a sort of "free-lance" prospector on his own.

He is probably the only man in Newmarket who has gold in his rock garden. But just a moment, there is no point in anyone getting the idea of stealing furtively into Mr. Croto's garden on a dark night to seize and carry off a carload of it because the gold is in such minute and untraceable quantities that it would be lost in the process of smelting or whatever you do with gold ore. So let us permit Mr. Croto's rocks to rest safe and sound at his home.

Rocks are just rocks to the average person but to Mr. Croto they may hold mighty secrets which conceal untold geological significance.

Along with gold quartz and other pieces of ore, he displayed before us, was a chunk of dirty looking black rock which could have been a piece of coal at first glance. This rock was one of the new light weight discoveries called titanium. Although it is black in its natural state, it is used in the manufacture of the whitest of paints.

ONE OF LAST DAVIS TANNERY WORKERS AT KINGHORN

William Ross, 33, who lives in Kinghorn, is one of the few persons still living who were employed at the Davis tannery in Kinghorn, before it was moved to Newmarket to become the King at Kinghorn, overlooking a beautiful wide valley on the east side. An ardent hunter throughout his life, he now watches foxes crossing the valley stream from the picture window in his view from his living room window. In pioneer days, he said, his grandfather shot deer with this shotgun, amazing though it sounds; deer were tame and could be picked off at close range. A story on page 14 tells how Mr. Ross recalls watching the second tannery fire which ended tanning in Kinghorn and which was responsible for the establishment of a new leather industry in Newmarket.

N.I.S. OPEN HOUSE

Sangamo To Close Down Its Factory Here

A Newmarket industry, the Sangamo Co. plant, is expected to close down soon. An electronic division of Sangamo Co. Ltd., Leaside, the plant opened here in January, 1947, and has employed 60 persons, about ten men and 50 girls.

Manager of the plant, Henry Moore, told the Era and Express yesterday that the company board of directors at a meeting last week, decided to discontinue the manufacture of capacitors in Newmarket. Capacitors are used in radio and television sets.

Since the plant has been almost entirely devoted to the manufacture of capacitors, it will be forced to close down at a date within the near future, said Mr. Moore.

He said that he could not say when that day would be because management would have to consider the number of orders on hand at the present time and weigh the situation carefully.

The Sangamo plant is located on Crescent Rd., on the east side of town. It was established in a building which was once an army hospital at the Newmarket camp and which is now owned by the company along with a considerable amount of property behind the building.

The expected shut-down marks a further decline in industrial activity in Newmarket in the past year. A few months ago it was announced that the production of Mercury Records in a small plant on Davis Drive would cease. In the summer the Davis Leather Co. Ltd. cut down employment and working hours.

SPRING TODAY

Today is the first day of spring. The date was moved ahead this year by one day because of the extra day in February.

Red Cross Drive For $4,500 Target Next Thursday Eve

The Newmarket Red Cross will conduct a whirlwind campaign next Thursday evening, March 27. From the hours of 6 p.m. to 9 p.m., canvassers will call at every home in Newmarket for contributions towards the campaign objective of $4,500.

Businesses and industries are being canvassed by day but there will be no door-to-door canvassing of homes until next Thursday evening when it is hoped that in one concentrated effort, all homes can be reached at the one time by teams of canvassers.

The campaign opening will be signalled by factory whistles. Householders are asked to keep their porch lights on during the campaign and are reminded that the canvassers will be neighbors they will know. Householders are asked to have their contributions ready when the canvasser calls and they will be given a Red Cross receipt.

Although the objective for Newmarket and district does not bulk very large against the national objective of hundreds of thousands, the Red Cross can continue its work only as long as the individual branches are supported by the public. Miss Edith Robertson, president of the Newmarket branch, stressed that point in her final appeal for public support.

"The Red Cross depends upon voluntary contributions to continue its peace-time work for the improvement of health and relief of human suffering," she said. Included in this work are the blood transfusion services for both civilians and the armed services, help in times of disaster, upkeep of outpost hospitals, welfare work, sewing in Red Cross work rooms, dental coaches in outlying districts, classes in first aid and water safety.

"This program can be kept up only if we all contribute to the campaign fund. The work of each branch is an important part of the whole and if the campaign is to succeed, each branch must reach its objective," she said. "The voluntary canvassers are giving their time and their effort and we hope that the people of Newmarket and district will make a generous response to their appeal."

The Newmarket Red Cross has had a long and eventful history. It was founded in 1900 as a branch of the British Red Cross and its members worked during the South African war. In August, 1914, the branch resumed its war work. It was the first branch to contribute the funds to buy a field ambulance during the first great war.

The branch disbanded sometime after the first great war but in 1939 was formed again and has continued its war and peacetime relief work steadily ever since.

Canvassing captains for the current campaign are: in Newmarket, St. Patrick's ward, Mrs. C. E. Wheeland; St. Andrew's ward, Mrs. H. A. Jackson; St. George's ward north, Mrs. J. R. Booth; St. George's ward south, Mrs. C. R. Blackstock; Main St. north, Mrs. S. Jones; Yonge St. north, Mrs. H. F. Dunham; Yonge St. south, Mrs. Gordon Kerr; Sharon, Mrs. Frank Ramsay; Queensville, Mrs. Byron Aylward; Holland Landing, John Meyer.

Following the canvass Thursday night, the executive will provide refreshments for the canvassers and leaders at the Red Cross headquarters at Trinity United church.

Child Struck By Taxi Near Safety Area

A five-year-old kindergarten pupil was struck down by a car on Eagle St. yesterday while she was on her way to catch the school bus at 1 p.m. Wendy Burch, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Burch, 56 Andrew St., walked from behind a parked car near Eagle St. and Lorne Ave. and was struck by a taxi from Aurora which was travelling west.

The child was taken to York County hospital, attended by Dr. Gordon Cook, and was later taken to Sick Children's hospital in Toronto. She was said to have suffered a broken cheek bone.

Alf Lewis, who had parked his car to let out another child had noticed the girl on the sidewalk. He was first to reach her when she was struck down. The wheels of the taxi did not pass over the child.

Constable William Hill of the Newmarket police department said last night that no charges would be laid against the driver of the taxi. From a number of witnesses on hand, it was established that the driver had no chance of seeing the child before she walked from behind the parked car.

Wendy crossed the street about 10 feet past the white safety strip painted on the pavement a few minutes before one o'clock. A school crossing guard, employed by the town, starts his duty at 1 p.m. daily but children are on their way to catch the kindergarten bus at the Stuart School before 1 p.m.

NIGHT CLASSES

The classes in house construction conducted by Ross Howlett will be held in the Newmarket high school on Monday nights at 8 p.m.

The welding classes to have been conducted by Orville Wilson have been postponed until the fall.

Newmarket Skating Carnival Packs House

The Newmarket Figure Skating club's carnival filled the Newmarket arena Friday and Saturday to the extent that rush sections had to be set up to accommodate the overflow from reserves. The enthusiasm and size of the Newmarket audience proved that the carnival has become one of the most popular events of the season.

A program with the greatest appeal is one which features local talent and the carnival with a cast of 175 was packed with local talent and plenty of ability. There were few, if any, in the cast who were not closely connected with someone in the audience.

Over 2 tiny "bears", ranging in ages from three to six years, opened the show in a number and with characteristic slouch of the era, he did an ice version of the Charleston. Audience approval brought encores.

In the same vein, two local figure skaters, Lawrence Curtis and Howard Brice presented "Flip Flop", one in a form-fitting red gingham dress and long white unmentionables, the other in black gym bloomers and a red sweater.

Sally Brice, 7, soloed in a cardinal red costume, trimmed with silver in a number called "Little Miss Winter". Sally showed great improvement, as did other club members, over performances of last year.

"Don't be surprised if Guy Revell is in the Olympics ten years from now," commented one fan. Guy Revell's spins created a blur of motion over the ice.

Other soloists were Colleen Cain, Maureen West, Jean McDonald and Velma Lillierop, Toronto. They showed excellent form and their effortless grace of movement made difficult spins, twirls and figures look like child's play.

Marilyn and Edna Perks earned an encore with their easy rhythm and perfect timing in a sister act. Jane Garrioch was a ballerina and in the eight to 11 years group, a quartet of skaters executed an interesting routine in "Oklahoma". They were Judy Morton, Faye Russell, Beverly Crouch and Gaye Willis.

Six, seven and eight-year olds presented "Christmas in Killarney" with featured skaters Donna Hands, Roberta and Gail Whyte, Wendy and Heather Davis.

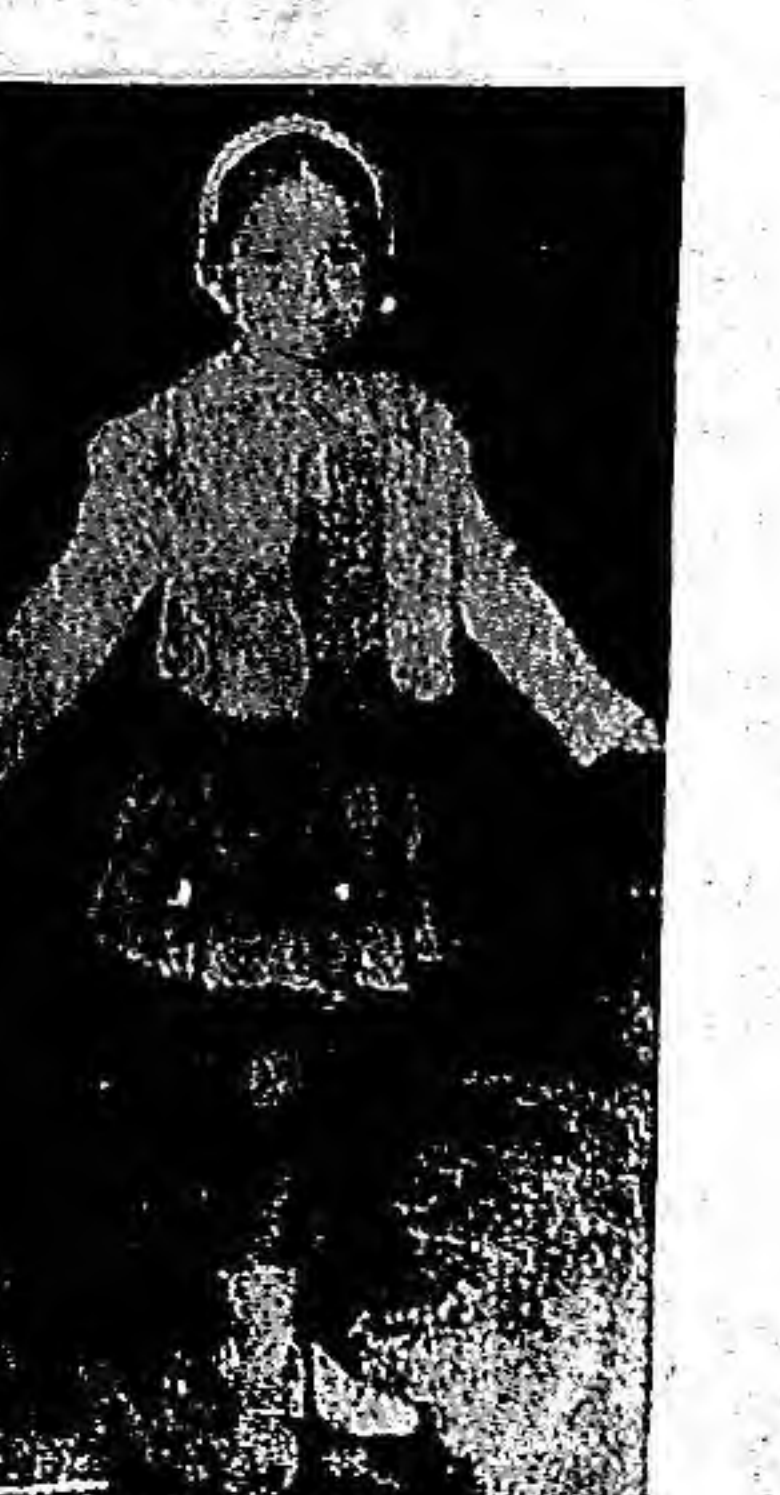

Adult members Keith and Margaret Nevils captured the audience with the swinging grace of movement in the "Emperor Waltz". Velma Lillierop appeared in a duet with instructor, Harold Hartley.

Master of ceremonies, Howard Morton, in introducing Hartley, said, "Here is a man who has skated every stroke with every skater." Mr. Hartley's charges did credit to his instruction and his personal performance showed what they all hope to attain in coming years.

The Skating Club, with its president, Mrs. Howard Brice, can stroke up another successful season. The performers showed marked development since last year. The club is not only providing instruction for some-day professionals but providing children with happy associations and an opportunity to share in the spotlight.

Marilyn and Edna Perks, above, were featured skaters in a sister act at the figure skating club's carnival and Sally Brice, 7, below, was "Little Miss Winter" in a solo number Friday and Saturday nights.

ANSNORVELD

SHARON

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Stokes, Beth and Douglas spent the weekend with friends at Mount Albert.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Mount, Dale and Mrs. Evans visited Mr. and Mrs. Donald White in Toronto on Sunday.

Miss Doris Mackie, Mr. Ted Fife of Toronto were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fife.

Mr. and Mrs. David Coates visited Mr. and Mrs. Marritt McKelvey at Queensville on Sunday.

Sharon United church ladies are sponsoring another croquignole party at the hall on Friday, April 4.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Kiteley spent the weekend in the city with Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins.

With the general topic on Monday, March 17, "Are Hunger and Poverty the Real Causes of War?", farm forums were asked to think about the basic causes of war, and the main things which can be done to prevent war. Sir Norman Angell, British author and winner of the Nobel Peace Prize in 1933, took part in the broadcast.

Mount Albert forum met with 12 members present, and a special guest was the local minister, Rev. Shapter. Discussion leader was J. McDonald. The next meeting will be at the home of A. Case. The forum thinks that "greed, nationalism, injustice, communist agitation, and the fear or threat of hunger are the real causes of war." Members believe that countries will have to get away from racial discrimination, and must supply food and education to the less fortunate.

Newmarket East farm forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Walker, with 13 present and two discussion groups formed. This group remarked that the questions were ones that have been asked for generations, and "although our answers may not solve the problems of the world, they might help." They say: "Greed, desire for power, lack of education, agricultural assistance, starvation and poverty—all lead to unrest and the people are ready to listen to any creed that will offer any help."

Industrial capitalism is deserving of much blame. Governments should help industry and agriculture to avoid depressions and inflation. Surpluses should be distributed where most needed. There should be a better balance of trade with all countries and a levelling off of excess profits.

Mrs. Wm. Bales, secretary of this forum, adds that this was the final report until next year, and that "We have thoroughly enjoyed our forum this year and have derived a great deal of information from it." They are hoping for a bigger and better forum next year.

It has been a pleasure to publish each week the report of the local forums. Next Monday sees the end of the broadcasts for the 1951-52 season, when a general review of the year will be presented.

The Story Of SHARON

By
ETHEL WILSON TREWHELLA

This is the forty-first instalment of a continuing "Story of Sharon" from its founding to the present. The story was written after almost two years of research and will, we believe, be a major contribution to knowledge of the past. The remaining instalments will follow weekly.

The Selby Family

The Selbys were originally from Yorkshire, but because of the political troubles of the day, one branch crossed over and settled in Queen's County, Ireland. Several of this line came to Canada. The first, Thomas Selby, later made a colonel and magistrate, and known as Squire Selby, acquired from the Crown the homestead at the north of the village of Sharon. His brother, Robert, also came but had not been here very long when he met a tragic death.

Colonel Thomas Selby was born on January 31, 1779, and died on March 3, 1837. He married Sarah Wollen Phillips, whose family were Quakers and United Empire Loyalists from Philadelphia. They had 12 children and each child was given 100 acres of land when coming of age or at marriage. Sarah Wollen Phillips' maternal grandfather was the great General Llewellyn of Carmarthen, Wales.

A portrait of Col. William Selby, son of Thomas, hangs in the Temple. Leonard Selby lives on the farm given to his great grandfather, Wellington Selby, and it has been in the family for five generations.

Mrs. Roy Kneeshaw, Mary Selby, of Bradford, is a great granddaughter of Robert Selby.
An interesting bit of reminiscence has been related by Mrs.
Kneeshaw that Robert Selby and his wife, Mary Wardle, were wonderful horseback riders. Once, when riding from Sharon to Bradford along the old toll road, they were racing.
Mary Selby had a small baby in her arms. They were running so fast that the gate keeper thought the horses were out of control, so he quickly closed the gate. Both horses sailed over the gate with the greatest of ease. So amazed was the keeper that he refused to accept their lot.

Chapman Family
Another of these Sharon families which had their roots deep in old world history was that of Chapman. For their religious principles they had suffered imprisonment in Durham Castle and the common goal.
They emigrated to Pennsylvania and were prominent in the surveying of the new colony. Following the Revolutionary War their British sympathies made it difficult for them, and Charles Chapman, his wife, Elizabeth Linton, and a large family came to Upper Canada. The name is frequently found in early accounts of the Sharon settlement.
One son, Stephen, settled in Sharon. It was he who built the Anglican church in Newmarket.

Thomas Brown
The families of Sharon would be very incomplete unless the name of Brown were included.
Thomas Brown and Margaret Rennie were married in 1852 and emigrated from Aberdeenshire, Scotland. Margaret Rennie was a sister of William Rennie, affectionately remembered as principal of Newmarket school.
Their family consisted of Thomas, who married Julia Oxtoby, Margaret, Mary and Helen.
They had brought with them good Scottish thrift and solidarity, and for years farmed the land adjoining the Green Lane.
Recalled are the names of others who had settled in and had been active in affairs of Sharon and township. The Eves, Vernons and Collins were Quakers; an early had migrated from Pennsylvania. John Eves owned and lived on the farm immediately south of the Green Lane. From England

they had arrived in America early in the 18th century, and the first John Eves was responsible for the naming of a very beautiful mountain on his land in Pennsylvania. The farm opposite, on the south side of the Harrold Road, long was remembered as the Collins place.
Joseph Collins, first to settle in Upper Canada, established the first saw mill in the Uxbridge district, and in this mill, at the age of 32, he was accidentally killed. His son, John, in after years farmed in the Sharon district.

Across the side road lived Addison Williams and his family.
For more than half a century the Knight family comprised another highly respected part of this community. They were pillars in the Anglican church and supporters of worthwhile projects. William Knight, the elder, came to Canada from Cornwall, England. Robert Mack-rill was one of the solid citizens of Sharon, who was ever ready with neighborly assistance and sensible advice.

Absalom Willson was long on outstanding staunch member of the community, a pillar in public affairs. He was a grandson of the pioneer, David Willson, and he had remained on the homestead while physically able to carry on. His wife was Harriet, daughter of John T. Stokes.
In 1871 Absalom Willson joined the Masonic Order and in recognition of 50 years of association with the A.F. and A.M. he was presented with special insignia.
He had attained the splendid age of 90 years.

Ezra Lundy devoted many years of a long life to guiding municipal affairs in East Gwillimbury. Joined to the daughter of another well-known family, Martha Charlotte Kelly, he with his family of daughters and one son, were active supporters of the Children of Peace.

For almost 60 years John Tait had conducted a blacksmith business in the old brick building which stood in the south east corner of the Doan farm immediately beside the municipal hall. This ancient building had been a blacksmith shop for nearly a century. This shop, with its genial proprietor, was the hospitable centre for the masculine portion of the community, and the friendly awareness of the doings of the neighborhood, and with the closing of this horse and buggy era a feeling of loss is sustained that a part of the precious spirit of village life has disappeared.

Their Descendants
From ocean to ocean and to the ends of this broad Dominion, the sons and daughters of the homes of Sharon, from the good treasure of their talents in industry, in education and in pioneering, wherever destiny has led them, have enhanced and justified that faith which the early settlers proclaimed in building those first humble cabins. Herbert Lundy, a descendant of Israel and Sarah (Hughes) Lundy, entered the mercantile life and rose to a high executive position with the Penman firm in Paris, Ontario.
John Smith, son of G. P. Smith, a merchant of Sharon, built a successful jewelry business in St. Catharines, Ont.

Angus Williams, son of Addison Williams, and a boy of the farm, taught school and later studied law. He is now a successful lawyer in Ottawa. Ross Doan, recently honored as Dr.
Doan and promoted to inspector of public schools in Toronto, was born just to the north of the village.

James E. Kavanagh, son of John Kavanagh, also taught in various district schools. His ambition and talents led him into the financial world, and he now is a retired vice-president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company and is living in New York. From 1929 to 1940 he was honorary president of the York Pioneer's Society. Another who has retained warm memories of Sharon is H. R.
MacMillan of Vancouver. His boyhood years were lived in the village and he is recognized internationally because of his unique interest and success in the lumber industry.

"Baldwin Breezes"
More locally, John Jeremiah Graham is remembered by his clever and humorously satirical column, the "Baldwin Breezes", which he regularly contributed to the Newmarket Era under the nom de plume of "The Owl".
Another John Graham was familiar in the life of Sharon. Versatile, clever, and acknowledged in the musical world as an accomplished cornet player, he had long led the famous silver band and frequently composed songs with accompanying music.
Various others of Sharon had

JACK SMITH WRITES

Ottawa Letter

A weekly letter from the member of parliament for York North.

The session of Parliament had just nicely started when the prime minister and minister of finance found it advisable to give notice that next month's budget will be no sunshine budget for Canadian taxpayers.

There had been so much publicity to the current year's surplus that we were starting to become just a little optimistic in looking for tax cuts. There will be some but they will not be large.

Hon. L. B. Pearson, Canada's Secretary of State for External Affairs, who knows more about world affairs than anyone in Canada and as much as almost anyone in the world, pretty well summed it up in a message to the Canadian people last week when he said "we can't have defence without sacrifice and taxes."

The most important development in national affairs has been the opposition to defence policy expressed in parliament by the C.C.F. party. The government recognizes the tremendous importance of not only maintaining but increasing our effort for defence, and this stand by an opposition political party if it persists may well spark an important turn in national affairs.

We have become so accustomed to the prolonged "cold war" that there is a possibility we may be lulled to the danger facing the free world.

Let there be no mistaking the facts. Those in closest touch with world conditions are very seriously concerned about the state of world affairs. Despite NATO, and encouraging reports of improving co-operation among the nations of the free world, the danger is still very real and very grave.

Our defence effort is so important that there cannot be any doubt about the wholeheartedness of Canada's efforts and intentions in regard to NATO, and our contributions to defence of Europe.

In view of world conditions, and our increased obligations in the field of social legislation the plain cool fact is that Canadians can look forward for some years to a continuing heavy tax burden.

This being so our efforts must be turned to making sure that every precaution is taken to guarantee the Canadian taxpayer gets value for his tax dollar.

This is the duty of parliament and the concern not only of those who support the government, but those who sit in the opposition parties.

The budget when it comes down while not having any great tax reductions may well have some adjustments in our attained distinction and reference has been made. Following settlement of the Riel disturbance, the cry from Ontario was "Westward Ho!" A considerable migration trekked to the newly-opened territories; from Sharon went George and Jack Doan and Charles Barker.

Those of Sharon who have gone to far places affectionately attribute the foundation of any success or honor which they had attained to the impressions unconsciously absorbed from the wholesome influences contributed by those sincere and refined men and women of Sharon.
They were a good company and generously had given of their time and talents and prestige to Sunday school work, to strengthening temperance efforts, to stimulating literary entertainment and to providing good music. One who had spent the young years of life in Sharon recalled "that the Sharon band had its weekly practice in the music hall - that music did something for most of us, that something was wholesome. It did not make musicians of us but I am sure it left impressions on our young minds which in later life helped us attain a finer appreciation for good music. As I look back at those early Sharon days, more of my education was 'caught' than that which was 'taught'."

"It's time Pop knew some of the facts of life!"

Funny thing about parents. They can be so smart about some things—and blind to other things.

Take my Pop, for instance.
When I first bowed into this confusing world, he was wise enough to take out more life insurance.
Now, if anything happens to him,
Mom will still have money for groceries and rent. And I can go on playing here, instead of having to be a president or something,
to earn a living.

For that, I give Pop full credit.
Yet he's always complaining about how tough it is to save more money these days. Why can't he see that he can use life insurance — with its system for putting money aside regularly — to reach other goals. That way, saving's as easy as sucking a toe!

Another thing. As I observe economic conditions in this great nation of ours, one fact is increasingly evident: Every dollar that's saved helps to check inflation. So we should all save as much as we can, every way we can.

That's what I'm gonna tell Pop. And if he doesn't listen to reason, I'll just drool all over his new tie!

Life insurance dollars serve you these other ways:
A large part of every life insurance dollar is put to work in investments that bring you — and all other Canadians — extra benefits.
Hundreds of millions of these dollars have been used in this way, helping to provide new schools, highways, power plants, oil pipelines, homes and many other vital projects that raise living standards.
Today, by their thrifty habit of paying life insurance premiums regularly, nearly five million Canadians are providing security for their families working to check inflation... and promoting progress throughout the nation!

Heard a suggestion the other night which, if followed, would cause a considerable amount of excitement in the district. The suggestion was for a fire fighters' sweepstakes or derby. They have them elsewhere, apparently. In a word, it's a field day for the volunteer brigades during which they race each other up ladders, in hooking up their equipment, tying knots, spotting and dousing blazes.

There are brigades at Newmarket, Aurora, Stouffville, Uxbridge, Mount Albert, Bradford and Holland Landing, surely enough to warrant a district contest.

The suggestion was put forth as one means of publicizing the work of the volunteer brigades. All of them suffer, in one way or another, from public indifference and even opposition, yet there is no one more important to the community than the volunteer firemen.

We'll bet the fire marshalls' office would come across with official displays and assistance, and any one of the several community events like the Queensway Sports Day, or the Legion Sports Day would be glad, we think, to sponsor such an event.

There'd be lots of difficulties, to be sure, but none which are insurmountable.

The Toronto police have tucked Boyd away now and that cleans up the deadly trio of bank robbers, Boyd, Suchan and Jackson. Boyd was the luckiest. He was carted off to the pukey all in one piece; the other two went in ambulances, holed by police bullets. Of course, Suchan and Jackson were both caught in Montreal. Maybe they play a little rougher there.

It's been an exciting chase, but now that the chase is over,

we may be pardoned for asking what the man on the street has been asking: "Does a policeman have to be shot before the boys in blue get humping?"

The chase warrants the question—at least, the chase, as recorded in the dailies and on the radio, warrants the question. To hear or read some of the sensational accounts of the police manhunt, the shooting of Tong and Murray by the gunmen was the spark that set off "the biggest manhunt" in police history. Makes one wonder if the police are so zealous in their search for the shooters of ordinary citizens.

Personally, we don't doubt that they are, but the news reports of the last week or so leaves the impression that it was a private war between Boyd and Co. and the police of Montreal and Toronto.

Tom Birrell, the Newmarket Ford dealer, brought back newspapers from the U.S. towns and cities he visited on a recent trip south, and we've been browsing through them. The papers seem far more concerned with communism than in Canada. They print far more news reports and critical articles on the subject.

The Tampa Daily Times in Florida featured on its front page the first of a series of ten articles on Prince Philip who was described in the headline as "the key figure behind the British Throne."

The copies pre-dated the New Hampshire primaries by several days but even allowing for that, there didn't seem to be much in the news about the presidential elections. Seems to us, we hear far more news of that sort on our radio, or read it in our papers than the Americans do themselves.

THURSDAY, THE TWENTIETH DAY OF MARCH, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-TWO

VOTE AGAINST SWIMMING

After considerable investigation and discussion, the Newmarket Lions club has decided not to sponsor a swimming pool for Newmarket. The question was put to a vote at a recent meeting. Those favoring the project had a majority of two or three. Because such an undertaking requires almost unanimous support, the close vote was taken as a negative vote.

The Lions had intended to find out all they could about swimming pools and then, if practical, bring the project before a representative meeting of all community organizations. It was not the intention of the club to undertake the project on its own, but merely to give it the leadership which was required to start it on its way.

Mr. Charles Boyd led the ways and means committee which investigated a number of swimming pools which had been built by service organizations. He prepared an exhaustive report which was presented to the club. But even though once the project got underway, the Lions would be only one of several participating organizations, there was not sufficient support of it to warrant carrying on.

It is most unfortunate that this should be the outcome of an undertaking which in other years has been enthusiastically urged as being of first-rate importance to Newmarket. We doubt if there was a member of the club who didn't want a swimming pool for Newmarket. This paper has been an enthusiastic supporter of such a project. Yet when put to a vote, the editor, as did almost half of the club members, voted against the project.

It is worthwhile to examine the reasons for this negative vote.

BENEFITS NOT WORTH COST

There were a number of reasons why members of the Lions club voted against the club's sponsorship of a swimming pool. There were doubts about the water supply. Some considered it a luxury in view of Newmarket's proximity to Lake Simcoe and Lake Wilcox. Some were deterred by the amount of work involved; others doubted the willingness of other community organizations to share in the project.

There were other objections; common to all dissenters, we think, was the objection of cost. A swimming pool for Newmarket, even if built by voluntary labor, would cost well over $50,000. The sum seemed out of proportion to the benefits to be enjoyed.

Five years ago, the cost of a pool would have been sufficiently less that it would have been a practical undertaking then. Moreover, the financial picture for Newmarket was a good deal brighter. The artificial ice had not then been installed with its drain on community contributions. The pace of business was swifter. There was a feeling of optimism in Newmarket which has since been replaced by a more sober estimate of income and outgo.

Newmarket could still build its swimming pool; we don't suggest for one moment that such an undertaking would bankrupt the town. We do believe, however, that the swimming pool, as considered in 1946, was far less a luxury than it is when considered in 1952.

The most important reason for building a swimming pool is to help ensure that every Newmarket resident is taught to swim. In a country where there is so much recreation by the water's edge, it is inexcusable that so many should die from water accidents each year. If swimming instruction in a pool in Newmarket would save lives, that pool was essential to Newmarket.

Swimming as a means of recreation is a secondary consideration only.

If there had been no alternative to a swimming pool as a means of promoting water safety, we would have supported the project and, we think, so would most of those who voted against it. But there is an alternative, one which has been followed off and on for the last few years. First by the recreation commission, and then, under the sponsorship of the Lions themselves, children were taken to Lake Wilcox for swimming instruction during the summer months.

Such a program could be continued for the next 50 years for less than the price of a swimming pool in Newmarket.

A dream dies hard. For years, the dream of a swimming pool has persisted in Newmarket. This paper has done its share in keeping that dream alive. But in the face of the cold facts of cost, we feel the dream must be laid aside, for the time being anyway, and our energies applied to enlarging programs for swimming instruction at Lake Wilcox, or Lake Simcoe.

ALTERNATIVE TO POOL

A question which keeps recurring, in swimming pool discussions, is why can't Faurey Lake be cleaned up and used for swimming again. There are many in town who can remember the days when it was so used. For that matter why not the Bogartown creek?

The latter is easiest considered because at one time such was the intention of Mayor Joseph Vale. He planned to dam the creek, widen it, and deepen it, and create a pool south of Timothy St. First tests of the water in the creek were vastly encouraging to his plan. They showed first class waters. Later tests, however, were discouraging, and it was found that septic tanks were draining into the creek and making the water unsanitary.

But Faurey Lake is still to be considered. Before it could be used as a swimming pool, it would have to be cleaned from its source to Newmarket at least. The lake would have to be deepened, a suitable bottom put in, and the banks graded. But against these requirements is the existence of an agency through which such work could be taken. It falls within the scope of the Upper Holland River Conservation Authority to administer such an undertaking, and while it wouldn't be fair to ask the authority to do the job, solely for Newmarket's benefit, the authority could act as the administrative body if Newmarket did the job itself.

The authority is concerned with conservation in the whole area of the Holland Valley. Five municipalities support it and finance it on a proportionate basis. The authority obviously can not devote its energies to the improvement of one area in particular, but because of its inter-municipal nature, and because of its concern with these matters on such a broad basis, it makes an ideal means through which a service club or community itself could undertake such a project as cleaning up Faurey Lake.

In the editorial above, we suggest that in the interests of teaching water safety, the Lions or other community groups, expand the program of swimming instruction at Lake Wilcox. We suggest too that if the Lions are still looking for a project to which it can give continuing support, they investigate the possibilities of working through the conservation authority toward the cleaning up of Faurey Lake and preparing it as a possible swimming pool.

DAYS OF 30-INCH PINE

In the story of the Kinghorn mill which appeared on the front page of last week's issue of the Era and Express, the mill is described as being floored with 30-inch pine flooring, bought at $4 a 1,000 or $2.50 a 1,000 if knotty.

What memories those figures must evoke among the old timers; what regrets for a vanished past must they evoke among those who are building homes nowadays. Thirty-inch pine is virtually impossible to purchase nowadays and when it can be located, the price in no wise resembles that of the days when the Kinghorn mill was built.

Such remembrances re-awaken us to how much has been lost of the splendid heritage of natural resources which was this country's a century ago. We have made do with different, more costly building construction, or with wood substitutes, and so have gotten along without 30-inch pine at $4 a 1,000. But our wood resources were not the only resources to be depleted. Will we be able to find substitutes for worn out soils, for wasted water energy? Yes, and for the depletion of what once was a boundless well of energy and self-initiative among our people?

We are belatedly turning to new efforts to conservation, to rebuilding our forests and soils, to holding back our water on the land. It is an expensive process. And even with this new interest, is sufficient work being done? We doubt it. A start has been made, but only a start. It's a long road to travel before 30-inch pine becomes common again, if ever.

Office Cat Reports Catnips By Ginger

I saw the capture of Edwin Salgonta Void. I, with my own eyes, watched them bring this hunted criminal to the waiting shackles. I, your favorite correspondent and Era and Express staff writer, was there. I saw the police. I saw the crowds. I saw the detectives and gendarmes, in that tense hour of pre-dawn suspense, munching their sandwiches. I couldn't eat my sandwiches because my migraine stomachache bothers me early in the morning.

The populace of Big City had been waiting for this. There had been bank robbery after bank robbery in the Big City. On everyone's lips was the question, "What are the police doing about it?" There had been a lot of unrest and not a little ill feeling about the police who were supposed to be guardians and protectors of society and justice in Big City. So this was a big moment for the police. They were to get their jinning and be back in the public's favor. There was not to be one slip-up. This big stroke of a master play was not to be muffed, no matter what the cost.

Police department assistant director of public relations, Gus Shupnaught, went to no end in rushing preparations. He phoned all three metropolitan newspapers the night before to make sure they had plenty of photographers on hand.

It was this next stroke of genius that has since put Shupnaught into full command as director of his department. He didn't work in Hollywood. Guss Shupnaught, no sir. Thought Shupnaught, why not have the mayor on hand to help direct the capture. What a stunt. Sockeroo! as they say.

But time for the capture was drawing near. Shupnaught phoned the mayor's house and dramatized his plan. Deadline time was at hand. He called Void in his apartment again. "Listen, old man, you'll have to wait a while yet," he said.

"Give us five more minutes and you can have your picture taken with the mayor." So you see, it was all a set-up, take it from your favorite correspondent. Void had actually given up in the small hours of the morning but City Hall and the police department wanted a bigger show. It had been too quiet at the actual capture, no cameras, no reporters, no crowds and no mayor, but I'm putting it square, the facts, the inside story as it happened.

Edwin Salgonta Void was through, washed up, but when they approached him with a sound proposition to make a bigger news splash, he couldn't refuse.

Sure, Void was a criminal all right. But he was a colorful criminal, made lots of copy for the newspapers. He was a gambler, took terrific risks. But just so there'd be no danger of some of the public sort of admiring Void, this nonchalant, dapper front page showman, they had some script prepared to put a punch to the story, give it that old time moral ending.

They had Void say a few words about meeting the mayor and gayly laugh to the cameraman an offhand question, "Shall I smile?" (They supplied with copies of the script for quotation, beforehand.)

But the mayor answered this wanted criminal, tersely (and "with wrinkled lip and sneer of cold command"), "If I were you, there, you bad wicked criminal, I would not smile."

The average citizens of the Big City, riding the street car home from work that day, was following every line of type in his daily paper, his eye jerking along to every word, his lower lip silently pronouncing each two syllable word. And when he read that the mayor had right-out-and-told that infamous criminal, he had a very good and proud feeling inside him that, at last, justice had been meted out!

That's the real story behind the story. I was there.

by "Dairy Farmer" The Top Six Inches

About the middle of the week last week, there was a short news item on the radio, and rebroadcast several times, to the effect that the Dairy Farmers of Canada estimate that due to the embargo on cattle shipped to the States, there will be a surplus of milk on the Canadian market amounting to 500,000,000 quarts.

Now the Dairy Farmers of Canada are an organization that is supported by the different "producers' organizations and which is supposed to help advertise and publicize dairy products. It's a kind of a super producer organization. We wish that they would stick to that instead of making statements of doubtful truth and capable of being misinterpreted to the detriment of all milk producers.

As a matter of fact, if we wanted to be blunt, we would say that it was a damned foolish thing to say.

Let's see if this above statement is true or not, or at least let us examine if the fact can be interpreted only in the way the Dairy Farmers suggest. Yes, there will be a number of cows stay home, bred dairy animals that would, in the normal course of events have gone to the States into commercial herds to produce milk. There was a real market for animals of this sort. Any purebred or better class grade breeder who had some surplus females could sell them this way. Now he cannot. This will undoubtedly cut into his income considerably. The question is, will he milk all these animals? The Dairy Farmers seem to think they will. We don't think they will, and we consider it irresponsible and harmful to say that they will.

These animals were surplus in the first place. Consequently their owners do not have room or labor for them. Do the Dairy Farmers suggest that with farmers competing with industry for labor all farmers who have formerly exported cattle will now expand their herds to hold those animals? We think they won't. We think that they will get rid of their older stuff and end up by having a better herd.

If the farmers affected aren't thinking this way it would be a good time to suggest that they do so. We all know that in some districts the herds have been going down grade because of the indiscriminate selling of replacements. One of the reasons was the good export market. We are sure that the present situation will encourage the culling of the herds.

Furthermore, we would like to suggest that quite a few of the potential surplus will be vealed. This will take care both of the problem of surplus numbers and surplus milk and the veal market has a long way to go yet before it becomes unprofitable. The Ontario beef men are cut off from their supply of feeders' cattle. Even if the provincial embargoes are opened up, there will be a hesitancy in buying feeder cattle. We suggest that some of the so called surplus, specially in the heavier dairy breeds, will be absorbed on the beef market.

Some of it might end up as milk on the market, but not all and by putting the emphasis on milk surplus the Dairy Farmers of Canada have hurt the milk producers. Why, they might as well write to the dairies and suggest that they cut quotas and lower the price. This kind of statement is an open invitation to the dairies to start wielding the big stick.

SEVEN LEAGUE BOOTS

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

Our readers write

Letters to the editor are always welcome but the names of the writers must be known to the editor.

The editor: There was one point in that thoughtful letter by Robt. Knights (Queensville) in last week's issue which this city reader would certainly like a little more light on. It reads: "A car or tractor which sells in the U.S.A. for $1,500 or so, costs $1,900 or $2,000 here or thereabouts."

This information amazed me, because only a few weeks back I had read and been impressed by a statement by one of Canada's bank-presidents to the effect that a basis of free trade in agricultural implements had been achieved between the United States and Canada. In the circumstances, therefore, I find it pretty difficult to make the above very wide price differential mesh with the latter assertion. Whoever is doing the "spelling up" it certainly doesn't spell "free trade" to me.

Curiously enough, in that same issue, I read a message by one of your national advertisers which included the striking assertion that: "All commodities are shown as 97.7 percent higher than in 1911; raw materials are 98.2 percent higher; average hourly rates of pay (in your advertiser's Canadian plants) are 158 percent higher; yet the farm implements made in those plants have increased only 65.2 percent."

That seems to this reader to be quite a technological achievement, but your correspondent's figures still stand as a road-block to my understanding. Hence my hunger for more light, Mr. Editor.

Here is my way of measuring the importance of this farm problem: according to the official figures (Dominion Bureau of Statistics) the total value of implements and machinery on Canada's farms, at the 1941 census, was $600,000,000. According to my reading, in the three years 1943-50-51 Canada's farmers spent the massive sum of $667,000,000 on "implements, machinery and repairs". (Note—my rural friend has just pointed out the decidedly significant fact that the above totals represent the wholesale level, and indicated an item from one of the farm papers which said: "The retail value of sales of agricultural implements, machinery and spare parts in 1949, was $300,000,000, according to Canadian Farm Implements.")

Oak Ridges News

Mrs. G. E. Jackson of Thornhill will address Oak Ridges Home and School on Tuesday evening, March 25. Her subject will be "Family Life". Following her talk she will lead a discussion period when mothers of growing children will be able to present questions. Mrs. Bob Ash will convene the social hour. A good attendance is urged.

The executive meeting of Oak Ridges-Lake Wilcox Ratepayers' Assoc. will be held on Tuesday, March 25, and the general meeting of the organization on Tuesday, April 1.

The sum of $31.25 was realized from the presentation of a musical program at the Lake school last week. Given by local talent, the program was well received.

Triple Birthday Party
Eighteen guests were present at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Boyd, Oak Ridges, on March 14, to celebrate the birthdays of Mr. Maurice Gould and his mother, Mrs. George Gould, both of Cedar Brae, and Mr. Norm Boyd. Their birthdays fell on March 14, 16 and 17, respectively. Others in Mrs. Geo.

L-O-G-Y

If you often feel "lousy" on getting up—if tired, sluggish feelings drag you down all through the day—an inactive liver with resulting habitual constipation may be the cause. Millions of people who suffer this way find that Kruschen Salts help bring relief from these symptoms. The reason Kruschen is so widely recommended is because it contains active principles similar to those of world-famous Mineral Springs. Kruschen acts two ways—laxative and diuretic. It promotes healthy action of the bowels and the kidneys. You just take a little Kruschen in hot water or your morning beverage, when needed. Try it and you'll rely on it as so many do—to help you to new pep and zest, by aiding healthy, natural elimination of the body wastes through bowels and kidneys.

AT ALL DRUG STORES

Gould's family who were entertained were her daughter, Mrs. Jack Blyth, and husband, Aubrey Gould and family of Oak Ridges, William Gould of Cedar Brae, Robert Gould of Sutton. With Mrs. Boyd, they make up part of Mrs. Gould's family of ten children. Miss Hazel Simpson, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Ash, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Judges, Oak Ridges, were on the guest list. The birthday cake was made by Mrs. Jack Blyth.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Norman Boyd for Sunday supper were Mr. and Mrs. George Barlow. Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Cook had a number of visitors on Sunday evening, attracted by Mr. Cook's television set. They were his grandson, Robert Chambers, and wife of Lake Wilcox; Mr. and Mrs. S. Jarvis of Toronto, who are Mrs. Chambers' parents, and Mrs. Isabelle Ashby, Toronto, the mother-in-law of Mrs. Wm. Ashby.

Claudia Marshall has been very ill from an infected ear, requiring regular medical attention, for nearly three weeks. Her condition is improving at this time. Her brother Winston was home from school with mumps but got going again on Monday. Oak Ridges Brownies are looking forward to the annual cookie day sale on May 17, when each girl canvasses for her orders. This is the project that gives the pack the opportunity to raise funds in support of the general program of Brownie activity.

Mr. Cook is happy to report that his sister, Mrs. Laura Booth of California, plans to make a visit here this June. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ash, Donnie and Russell Keenan, motored to Port Hope for the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Ash.

Lions Euchre
On Monday evening at Ridge Inn, nine euchre and three cribbage tables were played under the auspices of the Lions Club of which Jack Blyth is president. Captain and Mrs. E. C. Hawman were cribbage winners. Stanley Rule won the "lady's" consolation and Glen Boyle the men's. In euchre, Mrs. Nicholls and Mr. Gillham were first, Mr. Blyth, Bobby Dion, second, Mrs. Stan Rule, Bill Mirless, third in ladies' and men's sections. The lucky chair prize went to Mrs. J. A. Gemmill and the lucky draw was won by Mrs. Grant McCaheen. Bingo prize went to Mrs. Hawman and Mrs. Sheldrake.

The P.U.S. club held a social night at the home of Lynda Musson on Friday night, Mar. 14, directed by Bonnie McCaheen, the leader. About ten girls of grades 7 and 8, Oak Ridges school, meet on Monday evenings. They are endeavoring to make up a fund which can be given to Sunnybrook hospital. Mrs. Bob Woolley is convalescing at her home, Yonge St., following a surgical operation performed a couple of weeks ago at Toronto General Hospital. She stayed at the home of Mrs. Jack Blyth during the first week.

Mr. Thomas Maguire, Lake Wilcox, is confined to Sunnybrook hospital with a heart condition. He has been in the hospital for over a week and is an employee of Stouffville Motors, Aurora.

Mrs. Allan Jones was hostess to a number of friends recently, holding a miscellaneous shower for her sister, Miss Eleanor Phillips of Maple, who will become the bride of John Nimmo, King R.R. 1, on April 5 in a ceremony to be held in Hope United church. Mrs. Jones will be one of her sister's attendants.

Dr. David Lewis and his wife, of King, Geoff Berry, Yonge St., have become members of Oak Ridges Dance Club. Mrs. George Gourlay, Lake Wilcox, has been on the sick list for the last couple of weeks with an attack of bronchitis.

News Of The W.I.

News for this column must be in the office Monday night. Copy must be written as briefly as possible and confined to news and reports. Other than routine reports and announcements will be printed separately.

King City branch heard the history of Kinghorn and King City on March 11, at the home of Mrs. Ross Walker. Roger Rawlings told of the development of King City.

Few persons today know there was a military drill shed, where the York Rangers of Aurora came to drill. It was later used for garden parties, fairs, social events, and a skating rink. John Hogan constructed a race track here, where he tried out his horses. When the Grand Trunk Railway line was built from Toronto to Aurora in 1834, people came from miles around to see the first train and to have a free ride. The engine was called "The Lady Elgin". The first postmaster was Benjamin Lloyd. The McDonald family have been in charge for over 60 years.

Roger told how the first religious services were held in 1857, by a small group of the Anglican faith. A church was built a few years later, made of "clear lumber" taken from the virgin trees which were felled to make way for building.

Mrs. Austin Rumble gave historical current events, telling of the original wording of the National Anthem; the international Peace Garden at the boundary line between Manitoba and North Dakota; and mentioned recognition of King W.I. in the "Home and Country" magazine, referring to branch financial aid to York County hospital. Mrs. Ivan Specht said that a similar campaign canvass will be made this year.

Mrs. C. H. Stewart reported on the W.I. district directors' meeting held recently at Aurora. She spoke of a photo of an 1860 map of York County that can be secured by the branch, which accepted the suggestion. On this map our locale would be blocked in. With the object of preparing a Tweedsmuir Book, the branch decided to purchase a scrap book for keeping historical data.

King City W.I. will be hosts to York Centre District at the annual meeting on Thursday, May 15, when Snowball W.I. will display its Tweedsmuir Book; Temperanceville Homemakers will offer a display; and King is expected to provide musical selections. All conveners' reports for the year's work must be read to the local branch at the April meeting, and forwarded to the district secretary upon completion of local election of officers.

Members were requested to indicate their requests for special programs offered by the extension services, sponsored by the Department of Agriculture. Interests survey sheets enable members to find those who have similar interests in the neighboring institutes. Application for these services through the district is no longer required.

Miss Janet Langdon gave two vocal selections. Her accompanist was Miss Freda Dent. The program for the evening was in the hands of Miss Lily Anderson, Mrs. A. E. Jarvis was in the chair.

The Gormley branch will meet on Wednesday, March 26, at the home of Mrs. R. Ellas. Program will be on citizenship and education, in charge of Mrs. Roy Howlett. Mrs. S. C. Snively will be the guest speaker.

Motto: "A good citizen is not content to just sit; he finds his place in any community." Roll call: Characteristics of a good citizen. There will be a sale of aprons also. Hostesses: Mrs. B. Kays and Mrs. R. Ellas.

Lakeside branch will hold its meeting at 8 p.m., March 25, in Keswick Memorial Hall. Motto for roll call: Give a location of a Canadian industry. The Well Baby clinic will be held in the United church schoolroom, between 1.30 and 4 p.m., Thursday, March 27.

Pine Orchard branch meeting was held at the home of Mrs. James Hope on Wednesday afternoon, March 12. A secret nomination ballot resulted in more nominations than usual. Mrs. Howard McClure was chairman for the program. Mrs. A. Mason gave an interesting current events. Mrs. James Hope gave an informative account of her trip to California. Mrs. Ross Armistage reported on Centre York District meeting.

District annual will be held at King City United church on Thursday, May 15, at 9.30 a.m. Officers and conveners are reminded to have reports mailed early.

Lunch was served by community activities and public relations committee.

Aurora branch regular monthly meeting will be held on Thursday, Mar. 27, at 2.30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. A. Cook, Harrison Ave. Roll call: "Name a local industry."

In view of the recent successful progressive euchre and bridge, and many requests for a repeat, the members of Aurora W.I. are planning another euchre and bridge for Wednesday, April 2, at 8 p.m., in the Odd-fellows' hall.

Belhaven branch met at the home of Mrs. W. Kidd on Tuesday, March 11, with 14 members and five visitors present. Mrs. W. Anderson, president, very aptly replied to the motto: "If God created anyone, He certainly created everyone."

A nominating committee of Mrs. R. Stiles, Mrs. O. Smith and Mrs. E. Winch was named. After a short business session, Mrs. Anderson acted as chairman for the program. Mrs. O. Smith gave very interesting current events. Mrs. Lloyd Kay read a paper entitled "A Recipe from the Scriptures". Mrs. Norman King gave a hat speech. Mrs. Stephens gave a reading entitled "My Religion" by Edgar Guest. Mrs. O. Smith conducted a flower contest.

The meeting closed with "God Save the Queen" after which a lovely lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Willoughby, Mrs. Lockie and Mrs. Mainprize.

The monthly meeting of the Schomberg branch was held in the club room March 13. The president, Mrs. Wm. Crane, presided. After the opening ode and creed the business was discussed, including the work being done for the Children's Aid Society. There was a display of 40 baby gowns, 24 diapers, eight complete knitted outfits (sweaters, booties, bonnets), one sleeveless sweater, four pair booties, two pair socks, three cot quilts. These will be forwarded on this week. There are 400 pounds of used woollens to be made into blankets for the members.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Wm. Shoultz and consisted of motto by Mrs. Forth in the absence of Mrs. Skinner who is on the sick list, a solo by David Shoultz, piano solo by Mr. Houghton, report of directors' meeting by Mrs. Pierson. The guest speaker was Mrs. Gunton of Aurora who gave a very entertaining talk of her latest trip to Alaska which, with blowouts, breakdowns and bears, must have been a very exciting time. Dr. and Mrs. Gunton are leaving in April to make their home in Alaska. Mrs. Pierson gave an Irish song contest. Mrs. T. Proctor won first prize, Mrs. Gunton second. The hostesses, Mrs. Wauchup and Mrs. Kay, served lunch and a social time was observed.

The March meeting of Elm-grove branch was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Riddell. The roll call for the meeting was responded to by each member suggesting an improvement for home or community. Several members mentioned that they would like to see more care taken of country cemeteries, which are often so badly neglected.

Mrs. Comer displayed two quilts which had been made since our last meeting. Blocks for another quilt were handed out, to be made within the next two weeks.

Mrs. Jack Munro, as district director, gave a report of the district executive meeting which she and Mrs. Noble Munro attended in Newmarket. In the election of district officers for the coming year, which begins in April, Mrs. Noble Munro was voted second vice-president. Also at this meeting, the directors were asked to convey to the ladies of the branch that all members wearing W.I. pins should wear a small purple ribbon with it until May 31 as a tribute to the memory of the late King George VI.

The president of the meeting asked that our branches take more interest in the affairs of York County Hospital, that we should read all their bulletins at our meetings. A suggestion has been made that a representative from the York County W. I. be on the board of the hospital.

The members were divided into four groups, each having their own convener. Each group is to bring in as much money as possible before the April meeting, the money to be made in whatever way each wishes.

A donation of $10 was made to the Red Cross.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Noble Munro and the topic was "Community Activities" on which she gave an interesting paper.

A letter was read from Mrs. Corps, our member who is with her husband in Northern Ontario. She told a great deal about their work of teaching in a travelling train school and also of the lives the people in the far north live.

A radio quiz was conducted. Mrs. Selby getting the jackpot prize after eating four dry soda biscuits and whistling afterwards ahead of two other contestants.

Snowball branch will meet at the home of Mrs. Aubrey Wood, on Wednesday, March 26, at 2.30 p.m. Roll call: "What would you teach pre-school children?" Current events: Mrs. C. Conner; guest speaker, Mrs. Dorothy Bowman who will speak on mental health of pre-school children. Hostesses: Mrs. Conner, Mrs. Reddick, Mrs. H. Morning and Mrs. Nesbitt.

IN MEMORIAM

BISHOP—In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, George Bishop, who passed away March 11, 1949.

Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear;
Fond memories linger every day,
Remembrance keeps him near.
Ever remembered by daughter Kathleen, son-in-law Clarence and grandchildren.

BRANDON—In loving memory of Fanny Brandon, beloved wife of Charles Brandon, who passed away March 23, 1951.

Those whom we love go out of sight,
But never out of mind;
They are cherished in the heart,
Of those they leave behind.
Ever remembered by husband and family.

DARRACH—In memory of Duncan Darrach who passed away March 28, 1949.

We often sit and think of him
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own;
Like ivy on the withered oak,
When all other things decay,
Our love for him will still keep
Green and never fade away.
Remembered by wife and family.

GLOVER—In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Russell Glover, who passed away March 25, 1944.

Gone, dear father, gone to rest,
Away from sorrow, care and pain;
May you rest in peace, dear father,
Until we meet again.
Ever remembered by the family.

JOHNSON—In loving memory of Pte. Sgt. Clifford L. Johnson, R.C.A.F., missing over Germany on March 22, 1945, later presumed dead.

The dearly gained were opened,
A gentle voice said "Come",
And with farewell unspoken,
He gently entered home.
Sadly missed by mother, sisters and brothers.

MORNING—In loving memory of a dear wife, mother and grandmother, Mrs. John Morning who passed away March 26, 1948.

Sweet are the memories silent,
Of the one we knew and will never forget;
Lovingly remembered by husband and family.

PRICE—In loving memory of a dear Dad, Benjamin Price, who passed away Mar. 20, 1946.

There's a sad but sweet remembrance
There's a memory fond and true;
There is a token of affection,
Dad
And a heartache still for you.
Sadly missed by sons and daughters.

Easter Seals Campaign

Handicapped children in the Newmarket area benefit from the sale of Easter Seals, which is sponsored by the Newmarket Lions Club in co-operation with the Ontario Society for Crippled Children. The campaign is being conducted this year from March 13 to April 13, and seals have been mailed to Newmarket residents and collection boxes will be placed in stores.

As in the past, any parent in the district requiring help for a crippled child can contact any member of the club, or Robert Wonch, chairman of the Newmarket campaign, Tom Doyle, secretary, or George McCullough, treasurer. Cases which can be handled locally are taken care of by the Lions Club, and other cases are referred to the Society. Money raised helps children throughout Ontario.

Through the 1952 appeal, the Ontario Society for Crippled Children is seeking to raise $400,000 to finance special projects to meet the needs of the province's 4,700 handicapped children and to continue the attack on the dreaded cerebral palsy. More than 120 service clubs in Ontario have united as supporters of the Society, according to Reg Hopper, Executive Director.

The Society tries to establish young people as self-supporting citizens; has 16 nurses in the province; conducts clinics to which prominent specialists volunteer their time; arranges hospitalization; runs the Woodedden camp at London, Blue Mountain Camp at Collingwood and Merrywood-on-the-Rideau; operates nursing centres; administers the Woodedden Cerebral Palsy Centre, and a mobile clinic demonstrating improved methods for treating cerebral palsy; and operates Variety Village, Toronto, a residential school which provides vocational training for handicapped youths.

All nurses of the Society are graduates in public health and special orthopedic training, and are recognized as orthopedic consultants by the Ontario Department of Health.

On November 28, 1952, representatives of 10 service clubs met and formed the Society. Today 211 service clubs are associated with the Ontario Society for Crippled Children - 135 of them participating in the Easter Seal sale - and the number of cases discovered and treated has skyrocketed to 4,700 a year.

The first children treated 30 years ago had to be 16 years and under, but today the age limit has jumped to 21. Similar societies have grown up in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Quebec and Alberta, always with the stimulation emanating from the Ontario office. At present the nucleus of another has been started in the Maritimes.

In 1936 the Ontario Society assisted in the formation of a world organization when E. W. Hopper, Executive Director, met with others in Budapest to inaugurate the International Society for the Welfare of Cripples, which today has its headquarters in New York City. In recent years the Ontario group has been directly connected with other world organizations, such as the World Health Organization of the United Nations.

Each year, one child is chosen the province's "Timmy" or Easter Seal Child, by officials of the Ontario Society for Crippled Children. For 1952, "Timmy" is Frederick Atkinson, 12, of 595 Mary Street, Woodstock. He was chosen as typical of Ontario's crippled children, who are receiving services from the Society, financed through Easter Seal funds. When he was born, Fred was a weak, anemic baby, with no control over his lower limbs. Diagnosis revealed that Fred had "spina bifida", a condition in prayers and kind enquiries during the past six months of our dear mother's illness and also in her passing on March 13, at Victoria Square.

Mrs. Lorne Baker and Mrs. Murray Baker, Newmarket.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation for the many kind expressions of sympathy and beautiful floral tributes in the loss of our dear mother and grandmother. Special thanks is extended to Dr. Arkinstall, Miss Elaine Huntley and Rev. E. V. Warren.

Mrs. W. R. Hill, Mr. A. Ross MacKenzie, Mrs. H. Toombs.

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to express my thanks to my friends and neighbors for their cards and gifts during my illness in York County hospital and at home. Special thanks to the nursing staff and Dr. Arkinstall.

ENGAGEMENTS
The engagement is announced of Frances Wright, daughter of Mr. Harris Wright, Sutton West, to Mr. George Nicholls, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Nicholls, Weir, Sask. The wedding will take place Saturday, April 10, in the Chapel of Timothy Eaton Memorial Church, Toronto.

Mr. Clifford Morton, Queensville, wishes to announce the engagement of his only daughter, Hazel Louise to Mr. Bruce Ivan Coates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Coates, Mount Albert, the marriage to take place quietly early in April.

which a segment of the spine is missing and all muscles from the waist down are paralyzed.

The Rotary Club of Woodstock and the Ontario Society for Crippled Children discovered Fred, and gave him the care of doctors, therapists, and teachers. Fred's treatments are still continuing after 12 years, but today, with the help of leg braces and crutches, he "walks" alone and is thinking of joining his 5 year old sister, Judy, and his father and mother in the Woodstock Easter parade. Fred goes to Grade V in Northdale Public School, and plays shiny, hikes downtown to Saturday matinees, goes for guitar lessons and plays baseball and golf. His hobbies are building model boats in the basement workshop with his dad, a feed mill employee, and painting in water colors. Someday he hopes to study medicine.

Another special service of the society is carried on by Bruce Doherty, worker at the Collingwood camp. Every year Mr. Doherty watched the youngsters, saw their special problems of trying to use standard type furniture. So he began building chairs, tables and other articles that especially met their needs, particularly the spastic paralyses. Physicians and clinic workers heard about the furniture, and today Bruce and two or three helpers are busy most of the time, year round, working at the designs he evolves, though he has no special technical training, but just a "flair for making things".

Now, so great has become the interest in Ontario and elsewhere that standard designs for various ages or sizes of children are being produced. And every piece that he has built has been supplied either free, if the little patient can't pay, or at cost to a clinic or club.

Every week in Greater Toronto, about 150 trips to clinics and hospitals are made for the benefit of about 40 children. In the fall of 1948 one station wagon was obtained to round up the children, and in the spring of 1950 another. The Rotary Club of Toronto, the Canadian Paraplegic Association and the Variety Club paid for them. Last year it was necessary to replace them and the Society bought two eight-passenger cars, roomy enough to allow many of the young passengers to stay in their wheel chairs when they are being moved. On a regular schedule, directed by Mrs. May Wallace, the Society's Case Secretary, the two drivers, Bert Codlin and Jack Doherty, both war veterans, make the rounds. They take the children to clinics at the Hospital for Sick Children, the Toronto General hospital, the Junior League Cerebral Palsy Clinic, and Occupational Therapy Centre and the St. Paul's play centre for cerebral palsy victims. The cars are also used to take young handicapped adults for recreation to the Torch Club, and to bring children to Toronto from all over the province.

The Ontario Society for Crippled Children is justified in feeling it has made a vital contribution to the province and the nation, as well as to a great humanitarian work. Their cause deserves genuine support... today more than ever before.

SINGS IN ROME
Miss Jane Myers, soprano of the Rossini Opera Co., has been invited to sing in Rome, Italy, by Dr. Masuko O'Take, of Yale University. Miss Myers is studying at the Italian school of Opera at Naples. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Myers, Main St., Newmarket.

—Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gibson, Shirley and Marion, visited on Sunday in Richmond Hill with Mrs. Thomas Allison.

HAS OPERATION
Miss Barbara Pritchard has returned home after undergoing an appendectomy operation in York County hospital.

MOUNT PISGAH
Thirty relatives from Hamilton, Long Branch, Gormley, Bradford, Newmarket and district, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lehman, Pine Orchard, on the occasion of their 41st wedding anniversary. A turkey dinner was served to the guests.

TEMPERANCE GROUP
The convention of the North York Unit of the Ontario Temperance Federation was held in the United Church, Aurora, on March 7, with an attendance from various part of the county.

Harry West, the vice-president, was chairman in the absence of Dr. J. P. Wilson, the president, who is Florida.

Dr. J. P. Wilson, president, and Rev. H. E. Wellwood, secretary-treasurer, were re-appointed for another year. Both reside at Richmond Hill.

Sixteen young people had prepared for the oratorical contest on temperance topics, but only 13 were present in Aurora. Bob Wilson of Keswick won first place in the intermediate class, and Gail Aylett of Wesley church (near Aurora) was first in the junior class.

Judges were W. W. Wallace, Lorne Peebles and Elmer Williamson, all of Toronto. The convention was honored with the presence of Rev. M. J. Aiken of Newmarket, who for five years was president of the Ontario Temperance Federation.

SPRING SALE
The annual spring opportunity sale of good used clothing and white elephants will be held on Thursday, March 27, in the Newmarket town hall. The door will be open at 1 p.m. The sale is under the auspices of the Newmarket Home and School association and anyone having suitable donations may leave them at Budd's Studio, Beare's Radio store or telephone Mrs. Robert Morrison, convenor, (280) to arrange a pick-up of such contributions.

Each year a crippled child is designated as "Timmy" to typify the handicapped youngsters on whose behalf the Ontario Society for Crippled Children makes the Easter Seal campaign for funds. "Timmy" 1952 is Fred Atkinson of Woodstock, shown here with his mother, Mrs. Edward Atkinson.

TO SPEAK AT
H.S. ASS'N MEETING

Miss Eva Walker, Toronto, will be the guest speaker at the Newmarket Home and School association meeting on Tuesday, March 25. Miss Walker, who is an elementary school teacher and treasurer of the F.W.T.A.O., will speak on "Citizenship".

Miss Walker was chosen to meet with executive members of the Ontario Federation of Home and School to discuss citizenship and the part both parents and teachers can play in citizenship training. From these meetings and discussions, the speaker will bring much interesting and practical information to the Newmarket group.

Miss Eva Barnes, Stuart Scott school, is in charge of the program. Samuel Jefferson, principal, Alexander Muir school, will speak briefly on "Better Parent-Teacher Relations".

The meeting will be held in the Prince Charles school on Tuesday, March 25, beginning at 8 p.m. promptly. A cordial invitation is extended to the general public to attend.

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

TWO WORDS

Of England's first Queen Mary, we have heard it told, could you but see, Her heart, that graven there The word "Calais" would be laid bare.

Now you will wonder what connection Queen Mary has with flu infection, But there's a bond, though most unpleasant That binds the long past with the present.

For as on Mary's heart, "Calais" Was graven deep to ever stay, So on my heart when flu attacks me And coughs and sneezes rend and rack me.

February, March will on my heart Be written large, nor ere depart, Till I have done with all that flu

Can put its helpless victims through. Why should we, when mad winter plays At hide and seek with spring-like days, Feel in our chests those mad forecasters That make us think of mustard plasters.

Our eyes with tears unwilling flow Our nose assumes a rosy glow, Our temperatures rise up to say That in our beds we'd better stay.

And as I lie upon my bed While fluey visions fill my head, As Ides of March to Julius Caesar And Mary's "Calais" ne'er would leave her,

So February, March will ever be A haunting sound to follow me, To warn me with a taunting fear, That flu is hovering very near!

TELLS HOSPITAL STORY

W. H. Eves addressed a general meeting of the York County Hospital Women's Auxiliary in the Scout hall on Tuesday, March 4. Speaking on the "Origin and Development of York County Hospital", Mr. Eves traced the growth of the local hospital in an interesting, informal manner. At the close of the business session light refreshments were served under the convener'ship of Mrs. John Dales.

Full House For Fashion Show

With Easter a month away, on March 12 Newmarket was treated to as elegant and interesting a parade of spring styles as is likely to greet onlookers at the annual Boardwalk parade of Easter fashions in Toronto. And, what is perhaps more important, they were wearable styles, suitable to life in the small town.

Sponsored by the Newmarket Business and Professional Women's club to raise funds for the furnishing of their room at York County hospital, the fashion show was sold-out a week before with many trying to track down tickets until the doors opened. Local merchants, showing how wide an assortment of the newest styles they can provide for mid-lady as well as her escort, outdid themselves in what we hope will become an annual affair. Even the small tykes of the family were not forgotten.

It was these models in miniature who stole the show. One small lass appearing on the platform, took a deep breath and braced herself for the ordeal of that trip down the runway. Her slow, measured pace grew progressively quicker until, on the return trip, she practically flew up the steps, bobbed her curtsy and fled off stage. Her darling outfit from Harry's as well as her shy manner captivated the audience. "Jack and Jill" looked after the little ones' fashions.

For the male members of the family, a green "Holland Suede" popover jacket accented with plaid and worn with faultlessly tailored jodpurs were modelled. Anyone wearing a larger size than a 6x wouldn't do justice to this outfit.

The older men folk were not overlooked with many very smart ensembles being modelled. In fact, as one woman remarked, "I hope my husband doesn't see that suit before I get my spring outfit!"

The men added quite a dash to the show. Following the commentator's description of nylon socks, a male model hitched his trousers so that everyone could see them... the union is going to get after him. None of the gals were permitted to raise their skirts to show-off their sheer nylons. Insley's and Morrison's contributed the male attire.

In the lovely wedding scene that climaxed the fashion show, the groom in typical fashion, was late and when he did make his appearance managed to put both feet on his bride's trailing coffee colored lace gown. We were told by the commentator that in the notes given her it merely said, "The groom, Mr. So and So, through the courtesy of Blank store, wears a white carnation." Such a statement was greeted by a ripple of titters. Would he wear the carnation behind one ear or between his teeth, the audience wondered?

The flowers in the show by Perrin's added greatly to the effectiveness of each ensemble as did the jewelry by Yates which was chosen to compliment each costume. The models were very lovely in their personalized DuBarry make-up. Again, the colors to be worn by the model were considered in applying the make-up and Audrey Halme, Atkinson's Druggs, who labored behind the scenes for several hours performing this task deserves mention for her skillfully executed job of "gilding the lily".

Across the stage forming a backdrop was some exciting new drapery material from Senecal's and massed behind green fernery was luggage in Irish linen with glazed calf trim from Ang West's collection.

Short, trim coiffures featuring a tailored neckline were chosen as most popular for the younger ladies with the soft frame of up-swept curls being the most flattering hair styling for the dignified matron.

The much talked-about "Poodle Cut" was modelled and proved very attractive. It would seem to be an extremely suitable style for summer, but the frequent professional attentions demanded by this coiffure may be its undoing.

To escape the hang-dog look, the "Poodle Cut" must be expertly shaped and trimmed every five or six weeks and for the lassies with straight locks, such a style calls for four or five permanent waves a year. French's and Thompson's were responsible for the preview of spring hair stylings.

Eves', Hooker's, Harry's, Dawson's, Doris' and Chainway's were represented in the modelling of suits, hats, dresses, sportswear, purses, with credit for some attractive shoes going to Victor's and other accessories from Senecal's.

The hats were exciting and spelled spring regardless of the climate "out-of-doors". There was a Robin Hood hat of red straw styled by Canton. It was worn with an all-weather coat of water repellent Melbourne flannel. Another was a Maggie Rouffe creation of natural and green straw. It had flowers in the veil and at the back. It was worn with a suit of all-wool gabardine in an oatmeal shade which featured the shorter jacket with padded hip line and the flared skirt. Rhinestone bird pins and bracelet and smart green bag completed the ensemble.

For those who need half sizes, a shortie coat of French blue was modelled. It had navy facing on cuffs and shawl collar and was lined with navy satin throughout. Worn over a navy corded faille crepe dress with grey bengaline trim and navy buttons set with rhinestones at the right shoulder and left side of the skirt it was a very attractive, chic outfit. The model wore a navy braided straw off-the-face hat with pink lilac trim, pink pull-on gloves and jewelry set with opals and rhinestones.

It is impossible to mention all the bewitching styles modelled at this spring fashion show. It was judged as a complete success as a money raising affair, as a means of acquainting town people with local merchandise and was a further evidence of the co-operation town projects receive from Main St.

Many Share In Project

Approximately $200 was raised for the hospital work of the Newmarket Business and Professional Women's club when the town hall was filled to capacity on March 12 for a Spring Fashion show. Held under the sponsorship of the B. and P. club, the show was largely the responsibility of the 16 firms who chose the models and provided the clothing, accessories, flowers, make-up and stage decorations. The entire proceeds will be used to furnish a room at York County hospital.

Conveners of the show were Mrs. Lillian Rank and Miss Peggy Ward with the president, Miss Norine Ayers, pinch-hitting for Mrs. Rank who was hospitalized the week of the fashion parade. Mrs. Dorothy Bowman and Mrs. Seldon were commentators. Music was provided by Miss Florence Goldsmith. There was a sale of home-made candy by members of the club and during intermission children from Mrs. Charles Gordon's dance class entertained the audience. The accompanist was Mrs. Gordon Downward.

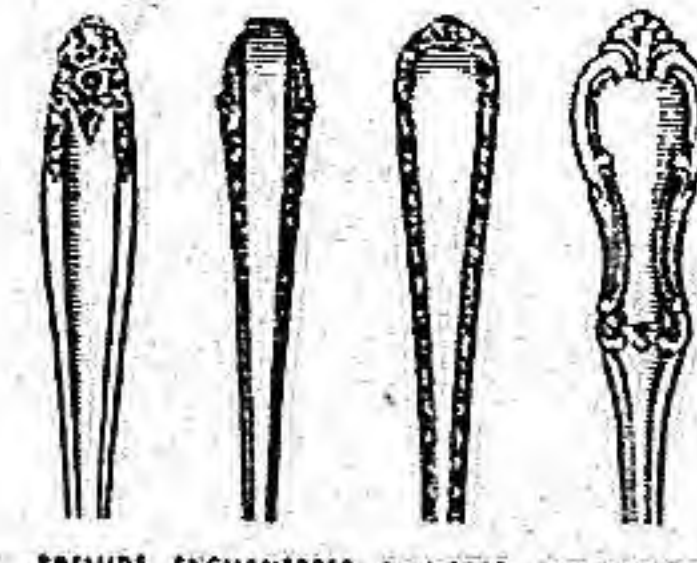

The door prize was a lovely DuBarry make-up kit, compliments of Richard Hudnut, and each person attending the fashion show received a favor, courtesy of Helene Curtis. Models of the evening included Caroline Edwards, Jean Dymment, Joan Quinn, Mary Blackwell, Doreen Smith, Joan Robinson, Mrs. Sparks, Eleanor Hugheson, Shirley Grainger, Lynn McBride, Jeanne Vance, Barbara Burgess, Robert Rowland, Peggy Ward, John Insley, Elsie Hockley, Carol Burton, Joan Mitchell, Marion Pickering, Bernie Stepak, Mrs. H. Pearsons, Mrs. Chas. Gordon, Faye Billings, Elizabeth Wonch, Jacqueline Gordon, Graham Knibb and Douglas McNern.

Merchants participating in the fashion show were Eves Ladies' Wear, Atkinson's Drug store, Hooker's Ladies' Wear, Dawson's Specialty Shop, Harry's Dry Goods, Robert Yates' Jeweller, Insley's Men's Wear, Thompson's Beauty Salon, Doris' Ladies' Wear, Chainway Stores, Ang. West, Morrison's Men's Wear, Perrin's Flower Shop, Senecal Dry Goods, French's Beauty Parlor, and Jack and Jill Shoppe.

Schomberg On Top

Regular campaign in the King-Vaughan closes tomorrow (Friday) evening. Fourth and last play-off spot goes on the line in the Schomberg-Kleinburg saw-off. Hastings' band needs a win or a tie to keep in the play-off tangle. They lead Kleinburg by a single point. A loss to the charging Kleinburg skaters will put the latter in and Schomberg out.

Friday's statistics were full of woe for Schomberg. Bolton, behind two-goal sniping by Jack Gibson and Harvey Wallace, sent the Bergers galloping to the aspirin box after a 5-0 licking. Roy Wilson was a stand-out in Bolton cage. Ted Derbyshire triggered Bolton's other tally. Schomberg plans were given a rude jolt when Jack Gregg went out of the game early due to an injury leaving Lorne Harvey and Bill Breddon to carry the defensive load.

Shooting at a two-goal-per-period-clip, Bruce Hall's King City Maroons spilled Ray Roger's Kettleby Jets 6-2. The loss dropped the Jets deeper into the league basement. John Richards and Ross Folliott amply demonstrated their ability to get goals with two each for the Maroons. Bill McGhee and Gerald Chapman completed the King scoring show with singletons. Doug Terry carried the groceries for Kettleby, nailing both goals to stave off the shame of a shut-out.

Four late last period goals that overhauled a 4-3 deficit enabled Kleinburg to bump off the league-leading Nobleton crew 7-4. It was only Nobleton's second loss of the season. Bob Bell three, Bill Roe two, Walt Bell and Harry Lostchuk with one each were Kleinburg's scorers. Tommy Dwyer was sharp on the Nobleton attack with a hat trick performance. Bruce Wallace connected for Nobleton's other counter.

N.H.L. FINALS FRIDAY

Second game in the best two out of three series for the Optimists N.H.L. championship will be played at the arena Friday at 7 p.m. Belf Bradley's Leafs require one more win to wrap up the series. The Leafs eked out a 3-2 win in the series opener. Rangers are boasting they'll even it Friday. Optimists are playing heads up hockey and deserve vocal and financial support.

MOUNT ZION NEEDS ONE

Murray Edgar's Mount Zion "Ramblers" defeated Mount Zion 6-4 Saturday morning. Ramblers need one more win to capture the East Gwillimburgh School League title and the Pop Walker Trophy. Dalt Thompson was a going concern on the Mount Zion attack bashing in five goals. Eddie Hopkins added their sixth. "Pep" Case and Murray Stokes spearheaded Mount Albert with two each. Series continues this week in the Queensville arena.

Spits Bow To Builders

Our once galloping and promising Spitfire machine sputtered and died Saturday night in Collingwood. Plans to stage a comeback and keep the group finals alive were halted when Collingwood came on with a late rush to floor "our gang" 10-4.

The loss meant the end of the trail for the Shewchuk band. Spits come-back plans got away according to script. Bill Patrick put the first shot by Westbrooke in 40 seconds. Al Shewchuk assisting. Grant Firth nailed another a minute later with Don Gibson. Swiftly Todd whistled in a Fink Tinstead pass and Grant Firth tipped in an Al Shewchuk pass to give the Spits a 4-2 lead at the 16-minute mark. Both first period Builder reply shots were supplied by Don Keith.

From there on the Spits slipped out of scoring gear, aided, of course, by a number of glittering stops by Westbrooke who broke their hearts. Spits saw their well earned first period margin wiped out by a four-goal Builder uprising in the middle period, to give Collingwood a 6-4 lead and Spits saw the curtain ring down on their season as Builders went active again for four goals in the finale.

Cook, Keith, Sandell, of the Builders' were the villains. They ran in six of the Builders' ten goals. Jack Andrews and Al Shewchuk were Spits defensive strong-points; Grant Firth was Spits best up front.

Spitfires: Goal, Tunney; defense, Shewchuk, Andrews, McInnis, Tunstead; forwards, Broughton, K. Thoms, Firth, L. Thoms, Gibson, Todd, Patrick, Smith, Johnston.

SPITS DOWN COLLINGWOOD

Only people in the arena on Thursday who couldn't be quoted as saying "it was a great game to win" were Eddie Bush, 25 odd Collingwood players and fans. Of course we're referring to the Spits 6-5 win in overtime—their first win, by the way, since the group playdowns got mobile.

It was Grant Firth's goal, his third of the night, at 4:12 of the overtime stretch that gave the Spits victory. Myles McInnis, playing defense in this one, and doing very well thank you, started the kill shot play away as he dropped the boot heel to Al Shewchuk who in turn laid it on Twinkletons Firth's stick.

There was little about the Hub first period to make the Hub faithful forecast a win. Grant Firth got them away at 1:35 with unassisted marker. Then the roof came in as Eddie Bush, Len Cook two and Jim Green rifled blazers behind Joe Tunney in just over three minutes. Thus the Spits trailed 4-1 after round one.

Flagging hopes got a lift in the second as Fink Tunstead, up with one of his best games, pounded in a long shot and later converted a Don Gibson pass into Spits third goal to slice the Collingwood edge to 4-3.

Third opened scrappily. Spits tied it as Don Gibson punched home an Al Shewchuk relay. Eddie Bush had one more shot left, and let fly at 5:45 to give the Builders the lead again. Then at 11:40 Jack Andrews moved up and into the Builders territory and fed a pass to Grant Firth and the whirling dervish of the ice lanes planted it behind Westbrooke in a twinkling. That tied it 5-5 and it was into overtime with the result as aforementioned.

N. York Bush League Series

The North York Bush League championship series starts to roll this week. Final plans were completed at an executive meeting Sunday in Aurora.

One hitch developed in the original plan. Stouffville Bush League secretary Jim Thomas advised that due to the late completion of their regular league schedule, Stouffville League teams had voted against participation in the North York championship series this year.

However, a fourth league popped up to fill the breach. It's Woodbridge's four-team bush league. They'll enter an all-star team in the round-robin series to complete the four league play-off series.

Leagues now entered in the North York series are Aurora Town League, King-Vaughan, Woodbridge and Newmarket and District. Tentative schedule for the round robin series has been set up as follows:

March 19, Aurora at King-Vaughan (Nobleton); Mar. 20, Woodbridge at Newmarket; Mar. 25, King-Vaughan at Woodbridge; Mar. 26, Woodbridge at Aurora; Mar. 26, Newmarket at King-Vaughan (Nobleton); Mar. 27, Aurora at Newmarket;

April 2, Newmarket at Aurora; April 2, Woodbridge at King-Vaughan (Nobleton); Apr. 3, King-Vaughan at Newmarket; Apr. 4, Aurora at Woodbridge; Apr. 8, Newmarket at Woodbridge; Apr. 9, King-Vaughan at Aurora.

All games start at 8.30 p.m. Top two in the round-robin will meet in a best two out of three series for the North York championship.

AURORA PEE-WEE

Aurora pee-wee Allen Cup hunters, nearing the end of the regular schedule, put across a pair of shut-out in Saturday morning's scrimmaging. Detroit, on goals by Larry Sutton and Keith Browning, put the hex on Chicago 2-0. Ron Ferry took a close in set-up pass from Don Glass to give the Maple Leafs a 1-0 win over Canadians in the late game. The victories increased Detroit's and Leafs first and second place edge respectively in the group standing.

Far Thoughts On A March Day

Charlie Warren, who did such a good job as professional at the Aurora Highlands Golf Club the past year, has been snagged by those enterprising golfers at Tillsonburg for the coming season. The Pan-Dried Town is really going to town with good junior and intermediate hockey clubs and a basketball team that may be the new Eastern Canada titlists. They really pack them in at Tillsonburg for the cage game and can seat more than Tri-Bells can in Toronto, outside of Mutual Street Arena.

Pete Crystale, former Aurora high athlete, after a long and painful recovery period from a mine accident, is looking the picture of health, and is now a customers' man with a well known Toronto bond house.

Loring Doolittle writes from the deep south, where he is attending an umpire's school, as follows: "Having a swell time, and getting a good tan. We play ball all day and go to classes at night. It's really some course they give you. My chances of getting a job are pretty good at the moment, but there's nothing definite to announce."

How many sports fans remember the name Paul Durbule? It's a matter of going back to 1922. That was the year the late A. O. "Alex" Murray decided to try and combat Newmarket's growing hockey strength in intermediate and Metro hockey and brought smooth-skating Durbule to Aurora from Woodstock. Paul, we learned over the weekend, is a successful motor part distributor in Detroit. Durbule played baseball for Aurora the next summer in the Tri-County, and was a sweet shortstop. Mr. Murray had had Paul as a player with the great Woodstock junior team of 1920.

Dunnville Juniors defaulted to Ingersoll Reamers so that the Reamers are waiting competition and don't propose to sit around much longer. The Ingersoll executives were satisfied that by next week Aurora Bears would be meeting their team, regardless of the outcome of the present round-robin series, and that McLeod and Collingwood would clash in the other half. The Reamers want another series before meeting the Green shirts and figure, according to their scouts, they could take Aurora in a close series. Nothing official about it by Tuesday, but remember Jack Roxborough, the O.H.A. president, comes from the area and that strange things happen in the hockey world. Aurora officials were satisfied at the proposed turn of events. More later, perhaps, in this issue. If not, watch the billboards.

Denny Labine, last year with the Spits, is a member of the Parry Sound club that meets Collingwood Shipbuilders. The Sounders are said to be strong, but lack the competition the Builders have had all year. Rumor already has it that Al Shewchuk, who coached Newmarket, will part company with the club. We thought Shewchuk made a good showing with the material he had but definitely lacked depth. The Todd-Smith-Johnston line was definitely a big disappointment in the play-off series and didn't sparkle to any extent.

Reg Westbrooke, the Collingwood goalie, has definitely found the fountain of youth and is playing terrific hockey. It's his tenth season in intermediate company and except for three seasons of army hockey, he's played all his hockey at Collingwood. Looked ready to quit three years ago, kept on playing as his pals refused to let him retire and this year, he's the backbone of the club. It couldn't happen to a better fellow either.

With the exception of Lindsay or Gananoque, we look for the Builders to handle most of the competition with comparative ease. The Collingwood management in both junior and intermediate company never lose an opportunity to strengthen their club for another year, and it's practically a certainty that Andy Cross, who has been playing some fine hockey for Aurora Bears this winter, will hike to Collingwood before the grass is green. Eddie Bush is mighty interested, and the financial arrangements might be attractive.

As a sample of sound sense for hockey, Brampton Regents are already organized and giving the once over to some of next year's prospects. We hope those who are interested in hockey in these parts are listening. In recent years it's been too little and too late in organizing the clubs. Human interest items: Steve Deane of Bradford, who attends O.A.C. at Guelph, won the inter-collegiate welterweight championship at Queens U. It was a brilliant win, but the real significance was that Steve succeeded his brother Jack Deane, the '51 winner, who also attends O.A.C. and unfortunately had his athletic career interrupted by the dreaded polio. The boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Deane and have been the stars of the Bradford soccer team in the summer months.

Ken Davie, who has been the mainstay and general factotum of Keswick hockeyists (whom we forgot to salaam to last week) is playing his twentieth straight hockey season. Barrie Church league, Barrie Colts, Young Rangers, Collingwood Shipbuilders, Sutton Greenshirts are among the clubs who have hit the headlines via the dippy-doodle and stick potency of the cherubic Davie.

High-pockets' Miller, the former Stouffville hurler who performed with Oshawa Merchants last summer in senior company, leaves this week for Florida and a trial with one of the clubs in the Florida State League. Stan has a St. Louis Browns connection, and his many friends will be pulling for him to make the grade in pro company.

Radio broadcast of the Stouffville vs Orillia series was heard over C.F.O.R., Orillia. This marks the first time a North York arena has had a broadcast of any game played there. The broadcast is well done and a credit to the station and sponsors.

Jack Ferrier, who hails from Jackson's Point, was a member of the Royal Military College hockey team which defeated West Point.

Twenty-four years ago, returning from the Olympic games at St. Moritz, Switzerland, as a member of the Varsity Grads, the world's champions, was none other than Charlie Delaney, now an Aurora business man. Charlie, who hailed from Ottawa, was a teammate of some of the great names in hockey: Dr. Joe Sullivan (goal), Ross Taylor, Red Porter, Dave Trotter (later to star with Maroons), Stuff Muelter (one time St. Andrew's boy), Hugh Plaxton and his brothers, Roger and Bert, Frank Fisher, Dr. Louis Hudson, Grant Gordon, and the late Frank "Pinch-hitter" Sullivan who lived at Richmond Hill in late years.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson

Times change. Once the Irish ruled the prize-ring, but you don't see many Irish fighters any more - no Ryans, no John L. Sullivan, no Terrible Terry McGovern, no James J. Corbette, no O'Briens, no Bould Michael McTigue. There are no more O'Mahonys or Caseys at the wrestling peak, and the great Irish weight-tossers of other days, the Flanagan and Ryans, don't seem to be around.

But the Irish are by no means out of top-flight sport. It may not have occurred to you, but the Irish come pretty close to holding top hand on the turf in this country. Ireland is a great horse-racing country. The Emerald Isle specializes in jumping horses, and has sent many a winner to the most testing of all races, the Grand National steeplechase.

But right now, Irish-bred horses have played and are playing a big part in American racing. First there was the Irish-bred Noor that, on four successive occasions, defeated America's greatest modern race-horse, the mighty Citation, in race thrillers seldom equaled anywhere and in which world records were smashed or tied, while the pride of Kentucky was being humiliated. Now comes another of the Irish, Windy City II, to breeze by Calumet Farm's best three-year-olds as though they were tied.

This Irish-bred European juvenile champion of last year not only has won two stakes for three-year olds this year, in America, beating Hill Gail and A Glean - rated Calumet's best derby hopes at this time - but came from behind to win going away like a real standout.

His victory in the San Felipe handicap at Santa Anita at one mile and one-sixteenth - indicating his liking for distance, since he was increasing his lead as he passed under the wire - just about convinced turf experts that Gus Luellwitz's $165,000 purchase is a prize package. Windy may go to the post in the Kentucky Derby, a hot favorite to win that big race.

In Europe, where Windy City was raced as a juvenile, his amazing speed won him the title of the champion two-year-old of England and Europe. His only defeat was an upset, something the same as once happened to Man O'War. Abroad, the only question about Windy was his ability to go the Derby route. So Ireland is by no means in sports eclipse. The Old Sod carries on, as it has always done, in some division of sport.

"The Day" has been both good and bad for the sons of the Old Sod. Most important fight in ring annals, staged on March 17, took place in Carson City, Nevada, on March 17, 1907. James J. Corbett, an Irish-American who had defeated the mighty John L. Sullivan to win the title, was matched with the Cornishman, lanky Bob Fitzsimmons. Corbett was the favorite, but was knocked out in the 14th round with a blow that still lives in ring legend as the solar plexus punch.

But on March 17, 1923 - and in Dublin City no less - Michael Francis McTigue of County Clare out-fought the Senegalese, Battling Siki, in 20 torrid rounds and became the light-heavyweight champion of the world. You couldn't ask for a greater combination of Irish ring success than that, could you now?

Mr. Alvin Stephenson is getting along as well as can be expected after undergoing a serious operation at St. Michael's hospital last Saturday morning. His friends all wish for him a speedy return to health.

About a month ago we told you of a herd of 12 deer being in this neighborhood. While driving along the town line on Wednesday of last week, Mr. Jack Gamble was surprised to see 16 deer grazing in one field on the farm of Mrs. Fred Schelke. He stopped the car and went over to the fence and spoke but they were unafraid and did not run away.

We would like to extend congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith who will have their 34th wedding anniversary on March 23.

Last Saturday was a very busy day for members of Whit church 6 and 7 Home and School Association as their 2nd great annual rummage sale was held at Ash's Booth, Wilcox Lake.

There was a very good assortment of articles such as dresses, suits, coats, baby clothes, shoes, overcoats, several refrigerators, stoves, baby carriages, beds, many work, aprons, vegetables and canned goods, and numerous other articles.

The refreshment booth was a very busy place as the hot tea and coffee was much enjoyed on such a cool day. The home-made pies, cakes and cookies were readily sold and the supply soon exhausted.

The children and adults also enjoyed the fish pond.

We are pleased to report that $200 was raised and will be used to best advantage for purchasing much needed equipment for the two schools.

We extend our thanks to those who so willingly donated articles for our sale, and to Mrs. Percy Ash for the use of the booth, and to our very capable auctioneer, Mr. A. Farmer, who did his best to get the highest prices.

HASHMAN AWARD

Grant Firth's Effort

Spits' season ground to a stop Saturday night in Collingwood. One thing the fans did rave about was the lush scoring work of Grant Firth. Firth, who spent most of the season doing rear-guard stopping, was re-united with old mates Orrie Thoms and Don Gibson. Back up front in accustomed territory, Firth pitched in for the Spits' largest scoring show during the group playdowns.

His three-goal effort here last Thursday, including the overtime game winner, produced the Spits' lone win. Saturday night, he was again doing his bit to count two goals. Five goals in two games is a mighty fine effort against the Bush clan. That is why it's our pleasure to name Grant Firth as this week's Hashman award and Roxy Theatre pass winner.

HASH

BY GEORGE HASKETT
Newmarket Sports Editor

What now, men? Spits season was closed officially at eleven and a half chimes Saturday by Bush and his flying squad. Naturally, before giving the intermediate campaign the brush off, one asks: What about next year?

Too early, you say? Nonsense! Thinking in terms of next season should be started right away. Wisest thing, and this hasn't been tried previously, would be to name an executive immediately, possibly not the whole executive but at least an inner working core. They'd be in a position to do a little summertime scouting. Any hockey players skipping about could be interviewed and ticketed for fall attention.

Notice more and more hockey clubs are organizing in the spring. O.H.A. annual, once exclusively a fall dish, is now held in the spring indicating hockey is moving into all-year-around class. This year's Spits executive, chaired by Geo. Byers, worked hard and faithfully to produce a winner. Didn't pan out though, through no fault of theirs. Hard-est knock brass had to absorb was the loss of Ross Hochberg. Little doubt the clippety-clopping defensemen would have been a valuable asset in the series just concluded.

N.H.S. Loses Trophy

COSSA (Central Ontario Secondary Schools Association) basketball trophies, six in number, were the target for approximately 250 basketball players Saturday in Toronto. Newmarket High School senior ladies were on hand to defend their laurels captured last year and to represent the Georgian Bay district.

It was Newmarket's fate to strike Beamsville from the heart of Niagara district and a beehive of basketball activity in round one. Beamsville, using their height to advantage and displaying sharper shooting, defeated N.H.S. 45-13. Beamsville then proceeded to tame Port Perry Eastern representatives in the finals 50-18 and take home the trophy. Glenna Woodhouse, Eleanor Clements and Joan Widdifield led the Newmarket scorers. Barbara Watt and Dawn Gilman were tops in the guards division.

Newmarket: Paulene Bovair, Joan Widdifield, Yvonne Johnston, Jeanne MacDonald, Dawn Gilman, Jane Garrioch, Mary Epworth, Isabel Rogers, Patsy Dunn, Glenna Woodhouse, Barb Watt, Joan Mitchell, Eleanor Clements.

Newmarket Takes W'Dale

Newmarket's Badminton racquet wielders stayed in the hunt for the North York title with a 6-2 over Willowdale at the high school on Monday. Results with Newmarket players named first were: Men's doubles, Bob Yates and Jack Hamilton defeated Bert MacDonald and Ed Chambers, 15-11; Jack Peppiatt and Frank Dampf defeated Glen Cromby and John Jeffries, 15-3.

Ladies' doubles, Marg Teasdale and Florence Callaghan were defeated by Rose MacDonald and Dorothy Young, 11-15; Eva Whitfield and Jean Sisler defeated Delta Chambers and Marg Coulter, 15-11.

Mixed doubles: Florence Callaghan and Bob Yates defeated Rose MacDonald and Bert MacDonald, 15-9; Marg Teasdale and Jack Hamilton were defeated by Dorothy Young and Ed Chambers, 6-15; Eva Whitfield and Jack Peppiatt defeated Glen Cromby and John Jeffries, 15-3.

Aurora Minors Win

Bill Mundell sent his Aurora minor hockey teams through a full afternoon of activity Saturday. They put on a triple-header attraction with St. Margaret's teams of the T.H.L.

Aurora won two of three contests. Behind Danny Patrick's four-goal, three-assist, romp Aurora felled St. Margaret's 11-2 in the first game. Bert Lovelace and Ross Patrick collected two each, Bill Egan, Paul Babcock and Robert McGann singles for Aurora.

Aurora eased out a 6-5 win over the Toronto invaders in a torrid midget tilt. Steven Mills, with two goals and as many assists, was Aurora's top sharpshooter. Robert McGann, Gerald Chapman, Murray Chapman and Cliff Murrell hammered in one each to build the Aurora total. Bill Wilson was St. Margaret's leader with two goals.

Aurora lost the epic-vee contest 4-2. Hughie Hammond and Herb McKenzie potted the Aurora goals with Jimmy Loh-law getting into the helper role in both cases. Charlie Summers led St. Margaret's to their win with two tallies.

Ladies Lose To Co-Eds

U. of T. Varsity Coeds were visitors to Aurora Arena Tuesday for an exhibition game with Ken Ross's Aurora Ladies. First period goals by Heather MacPherson and Sally Sables staked Varsity to a 2-0 win over Aurora. Aurora gals had countless chances to get into the scoring column only the miss the boat. Esther Topp played a terrific game in the Aurora goal to keep the score from going higher.

Aurora: E. Topp, G. Myke, L. Case, E. Marinoff, J. Marloff, I. Mashinter, J. Boazer, J. Patrick, B. Patrick, G. Evans.

GRADS DEFEAT A.H.S.

Aurora Grads recently made their basketball debut. They went to work again Friday. This time opposition was Frank Gregoire's Aurora High School seniors. It was another win for the Grads. They defeated the school team 32-22. Tracy Barrager 11, Don Lloyd 6, Jim Ross 6 were the Grads' leaders. Don Busby and Tommy Hulme with 5 each led the school forces.

Grads: D. Lloyd, T. Barrager, J. Ross, P. Hobson, H. Stone, G. Lee, J. Howell, G. Vrana.

Aurora High: T. Hulme, K. Kincaid, L. Easterbrook, R. Geddes, B. Burns, J. Jans, D. Busby, J. Crysdale, R. Linton, P. VanNostrand.

Legion Team Wins

For the second year in a row, the Newmarket Legion bowling team has won the Zone E 2 bowling cup. The cup was won at the Acorn Alys in Willowdale on Saturday. The Legion team is made up of Fred Gardiner, Mill Wesley, John Hisey, Charlie Gordon, Percy Pemberton and Charlie VanZant.

Details are to be announced soon on the zone clubhouse and district tournament. Each member of the bowling team receives trophies which are replicas of the zone cup. If Newmarket wins the zone trophy, it will have a permanent home with the Newmarket Legion.

Woodchoppers Night

Rural hockey dish at the arena was tops in "pops". Boston and Bolton were visitors to the North York arena. It was the third and deciding game of their second round O.H.A. intermediate play-off. Close to goal, straight up, hockey hungry, bent-on-mayhem fans piled into the arena. The din they created all but lifted the joint off its foundations.

One of the lucky local fans who got in summum up the woodchoppers serenaded thusly: "no market for stokers on their way out can see those guys with their own wood". And he was so right as both crews beat the behemoths out of each other with the hockey.

The rival spectators got into the act with a white-hot tournament of their own behind the shab. It was all in good fun on the ice and in the pews. Souvenir black eyes, bruises, etc., came a-drip, cheap, of course. Oh the scene? Bolton beat Boston 7-1.

Town, District All-Stars

Coaches Harold Craddock, Harry Thoms, Murray Edgar and Harry Lavender were asked recently to name an all-star team for the Newmarket & District hockey league. Results showed Mount Albert won three spots on the first team, Office Specialty, Town Regents and Vandorf, one each.

Coaches' votes brought out the following "dream team". Points collected by each player are shown in brackets.

Mount Wins First Of Finals

Thank you, Mount Albert and Vandorf. Your scribe is vindicated. We've let it be known repeatedly your town league final series would be extra hot stuff. You started it away in just that vein Monday. Final results showed Mount Albert taking the nod 5-4.

So far as Vandorf is concerned, Bill Brett, Mountie's scurrying winger, was the big bad naughty man. Here's why. Duffers and Mounties are knotted 4 all with a minute and 40 seconds to go. Brett hooks onto the boot heel just inside his blue-striped, dippy doodles his way around enough Dorf checkers to fill the town hall, and sends in the game winner.

Murray Edgar's Mounties went into the third period up 3-1. Dave Couch rings the bell with a first period counter. Don Marchant and Ross Draper perform similar gymnastics in the middle round. The jig looks up for sure for Vandorf when Bill Brett polishes off a Dave Couch relay early in the third to make it 4-1. But no, Vandorf has a fling left. They put the squeeze on and on unassisted goals by Mike VanNostrand, workhorse Jim Preston and Clem Elley tie it up.

Mounties shared the lead again on Brett's game winner. Vandorf had one more big chance but missed. Morley Smalley tossed his stick. Defense Bob Peters nailed him for the offense. A penalty shot no less. Vandorf star Russ Forfar takes it. Forfar dives in at the unprotected Bill Mulholland only to hit the post. Safe to say, none of the fans asked for their two hits back and they'll be back and more with 'em next Monday.

Vandorf: G. Fletcher, E. Forfar, M. VanNostrand, W. Kingston, B. Hood, A. Lloyd, J. Preston, H. Timbers, C. Elley, E. Stanley, N. VanNostrand, H. Richardson.

Mount Albert: W. Mulholland, R. Draper, M. Smalley, D. Couch, D. Marchant, W. Brett, Y. F. Forfar, B. Paisley, H. Bernick, E. Paisley.

Collingwood Dumps Bears

Collingwood troubles are plaguing North York hockey teams. First the Spits had 'em, now Aurora Bears are saddled with them. Bears suffered a double-reverse at the hands of Eddie Bush coached Junior Greenhairs last week. Wednesday, Cross-Rowntree kiddies were down 12-6 in Collingwood. Friday, Aurora fans saw the Greenhairs go through their passing, shooting and skating shifting in a manner that had the mark of champions written all over it as they rode the Bears into the freeze pipes 7-1.

In the Friday fixture, the Bears stayed with the powerful invaders in the first period duelling. Visitors led only 1-0. Greenhairs broke loose for two in the second and ran the string to 7-0 in the 14th minute of the third. Collingwood shut-out bid was smashed at 15:34. It was Joe Gasko's down-step, spade work, after taking Grant Edwards' relay, that turned the trick.

Three Greenhair front-liners contracted to lower the boom on the Bears. First big man was Jim Collins with three, then Jim Barrett and Alan Morrill with two each.

Taking shooting statistics into account Bears shouldn't have lost by that margin. Greenhairs blazed away with 32 shots at Walt Rhodes - seven were twice hit. Don Hudson, Collingwood opposite, having a good night, was called on to palm off 22 biscuit shooting efforts - one best him.

Bears' defensive hot-rods were Junior Class and Grant "Leroy" Winters. Keith Collins souped plenty of mileage under his flying hoofs up front to lead the Bears' attackers.

Diggers Fool Hotelmen

Aurora Town League finals, a best three out of five set, blasted off Tuesday evening. It's Mickey Sutton's "favored" Ditch Diggers against Jim Murray's "poor unfortunate" Queen's Hotelmen.

Ah, but what a surprise the Ditch Diggers had in store for them. Jim Murray's win conscious Hotelmen whacked the flabbergasted Diggers 5-1. Hotelmen in large measure had to thank Lorne "Boom-Boom" Fleury for this win. Fleury's hat trick show performed in the second period was the main cog in their victory parade.

Plaudits were also due Scotty McGhee - it was McGhee's pass supplying that set up all three Fleury's dunking safaris. Defensemen John O'Mahoney and Harry Sutton pointed the way to the Hotel victory with first period goals. Grant Dawson, accepting help from Charlie Sutton, counter-soaked for the Diggers.

While Mickey Sutton was planting a Digger second period goal, Lorne Fleury, as aforesaid, was busting out of his britches to get three, an exercise that gave the Hoteliers a 5-2 uppercut.

Diggers had the wind up in the third. Their vaunted last period drive silled into the Hotel lead as Bill Mundell first and then Shorty Sutton completed a pass from Tracy Barrager. Bar the rally fizzled out - one shot at the net. Game two comes up next Tuesday.

Cook Finance Committee Propose And Council Agree Sell Municipal Building

A regular meeting of the town council was held on Monday night, March 17, with the mayor and all members present. Highlights of the meeting were a recommendation from the finance committee to sell the municipal buildings and a discussion on the purchase of cement by the streets committee.

Correspondence included a letter from the Junior Chamber of Commerce concerned with a clean-up week in May; a letter from the Canadian Legion requesting the use of the park for a field day on June 30 and July 1; and letters from two citizens, Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Scott, reporting falls on slippery sidewalks, which were later discussed by council.

Mayor Rose read a letter addressed to himself from the Mayor of Toronto in which it was stated that invitations were being extended for the attendance of representative industries at the Trades Fair opening day on June 2 and that such invitations to mayors and industries were being generally made.

Reports
Reeve Cook, chairman of the finance committee, submitted a report on a decision made by his committee (other members being Councillors Corbett and King) to sell the clerk's office and municipal buildings to an interested party if the price of $32,529.41 could be realized.

The report indicated a suggested meeting of council and the public school board to discuss the possible taking over of the old public school for municipal purposes.

Mayor Rose pointed out that although this was a decision by the finance committee, all members of council, himself excepted, had sat in on the finance committee's deliberations. The mayor pointed out that the public school board were not in a position to negotiate with council without the approval of the education department of the provincial government.

A special meeting of council with the public school board would have to be arranged, said the mayor.

Council approved the report of the finance committee.

(Although no names were mentioned at council, the possible sale of the municipal buildings to the Bank of Nova Scotia was being freely discussed on Main St. before the meeting of council took place on Monday, Mar. 17. Ed.)

Cement Purchase Questioned
In a preliminary report presented by Deputy-Reeve Murray covering a number of matters concerned with improvement of sidewalks, and the laying down of a sidewalk from the new high school to Yonge St., it was indicated that the streets committee had purchased 1000 bags of cement at the price of $1.05 per bag before taking the normal procedure of obtaining the approval of council.

This action on the part of the streets committee was sharply criticized by Councillor Jim Murray, who wanted to know why the committee had bought the cement without first of all bringing the matter to council and getting its approval.

The deputy-revee said he had acted in the best interests of the town, and had received the approval of the mayor and the council, having telephoned both.

Councillor Murray said the purchase of the cement had been made between the date of February 25 and March 7, but no one word had been said about it at the council meeting held on March 3.

The deputy-revee said he had forgotten to mention the matter at the council meeting on March 3 and agreed that he and his committee had not acted in accordance with procedure, but protested that he had done so in the interests of the town.

The mayor supported the action of the streets committee, saying that quick action often meant that those responsible had to do what could be described as "irregular." He commended Deputy-Reeve Murray who, he said, was not on trial.

On a vote being taken, all members of council, with the exception of Councillor Murray, supported the action of the streets committee in buying the cement. The name of the firm bought was not brought out in the discussion.

Report on Grant
Councillor Murray reported on the matter of obtaining a grant of $5,000 from the department of agriculture for Arena Memorial purposes. He pointed out that this grant would have to be applied for by council, and that it should have been dealt with last year but between the old council and the arena board absolutely nothing had been done. As a new appointee to the arena board, he would see that the matter received attention.

Icy Sidewalks
Discussion took place in regard to the accidents arising from the icy sidewalks and what liability the town had in these matters.

Councillor Tucker again raised the question of enforcement of the sidewalks being kept clean and added some very critical remarks on the state of the Yonge St. sidewalk where the new Imperial bank building was being proceeded with. He described this condition as "sloppy and dirty."

It emerged from the discussions that the town had no direct liability to compensate persons who injured themselves through falling on icy or otherwise dangerous sidewalks, and that in order to obtain compensation it appeared that such injured persons must sue the town and if such action were successful the town's insurance company would be responsible in the matter of possible compensation.

Councillor Murray said it was ridiculous that taxpayers should have to sue the town to get compensation for injuries. Supposing they lost out they would have to pay legal expenses for actions taken as well as bearing the medical expenses arising out of their injuries. What sort of an arrangement was that? Councillor Murray asked.

Further discussion terminated on an instruction to the clerk by the mayor that a letter be written to the town's insurance company stating that two claims would be submitted for compensation for accidents.

Yonge Street Hoies
Deputy-Reeve Murray informed council that he had received complaints concerning the bad condition of portions of Yonge St. and that this would need immediate attention.

It was the opinion of the deputy-revee that the town would either have to do a job on Yonge St. or turn it over to the highways department.

Building Permits
Councillor Murray requested that in future all building permits be submitted to council. He protested against taxpayers having to learn from the local press what permits had been issued, which properly should go through council and from there to the press.

The mayor instructed the clerk to present all building permits to council in the future.

Parks Organization
Discussion took place on whether the projected Parks' body should be named a committee, a board or a commission, this matter to be dealt with at the meeting to be held on March 24.

Council emphasized the need of recruiting as much voluntary labor as possible and that money expenditures should be budgeted in council and expense limits set.

By-Laws
A by-law was introduced for the appointment of Mr. George Wilkinson as assessor for the town at a salary of $50 weekly.

When the by-law for the $225,000 public school loan was introduced, Councillor Murray again criticized what he described as unnecessary spending on the part of the board. "The board has made no attempt at all to cut down expenses," asserted Mr. Murray. He said he could point to over-spending in a number of directions if called on to do so.

Mayor Rose said he strongly disagreed with Councillor Murray, affirming his belief that the board had done everything possible to cut down expenses.

When Deputy-Reeve Murray said that he agreed with the mayor, Councillor Murray sprang to his feet, declaring that if somebody wanted to make an argument out of it he would soon provide the proof of his statement that the school board had made no attempt at all to cut down expenses.

Councillor Tucker said the matter had been debated and closed and no useful purpose would be served by arguing it all over again.

Other Business
Among other business dealt with was the raising of the clerk's salary from $45 to $50 weekly, and the question of more parking space brought up by Councillor Murray. Council rose at 11:15 p.m.

TOWN PAYS FOR WASTED WORK

The Cook Finance committee and council fired Mr. E. R. Good. Where do we go from here in the matter of assessments? Presumably the task of levelling out assessments in Aurora will have to be begun all over again. Since the young assessor appointed to replace Mr. Good is unknown to us, we cannot possibly have any individual objections to him, which we certainly have not. Other considerations exist, however.

Those who studied the revised assessments carried out by the judge, and made public in last week's issue of Aurora News Page, would note the heavy land-slides that overtook even the decisions made by the Court of Revision, all members of which were local citizens and presumably well acquainted with the nature of the appeals that came before them.

The judge saw fit substantially to revise the amendments made by the Court of Revision composed of Mayor Bell, Deputy-Reeve Murray, Councillors Corbett, Davies and Fielding, although the revisions made by the Court cut deeply into the assessments made by Mr. Good. From the little information we have been able to glean about this puzzling situation it would appear that Mr. Good's timing rather than his assessments was claimed to be at fault.

Mr. Good was not able to assess the whole town in one assessing year by the yardstick he had applied to the industries (which he claimed were best able to bear the heavier burdens) and consequently it appears that all appeals were allowed by the judge. In these circumstances the whole of the work of equitably assessing the industries will have to be done over again.

The assessor had worked with a two-year plan in mind, and what, through limited time, he had failed to do in 1951 would have been done in 1952. For such reasons, and other reasons previously stated, we think it is a matter for the greatest regret that Council fired Mr. Good instead of retaining him. He had an expert's knowledge of his job, and the will to apply it - qualifications that certainly are not commonplace.

THE LIQUOR AND BEER VOTE

Those who went round with the petition papers certainly worked at a high tempo for in the course of a few days enough votes were obtained to call for a later and final vote of the citizens on the question of whether they do, or do not, wish to have a liquor and beer warehouse in Aurora. Our information is that the canvassers made a point of asking support only from those whom they believed would say "Yes".

In these circumstances the real fight for the installation of the liquor bottles and the beer cases in Aurora is yet to come; and before that time comes all the names of the early crusaders for the liquor bottles and the beer cases in Aurora will be publicly known. At this time of writing only two names have emerged into public view, namely, A. E. L. Maughan, chairman, and Harold Rogers, secretary.

It is certain that before this suddenly-erupted campaign is ended there will be much heated contention disturbing Aurora's normally placid surface, and that is a great pity. We are not aware of any voluntary demand among the citizens for the sale here of liquor and beer. The demand has arisen from the activities of a small group which, we hope, is not being impelled by liquor and beer interests at work behind the scenes.

Aurora is a good town in which to live. Whether an improvement in its prestige and character can be brought about by a stockpile of liquor and beer bottles on Main street is for a majority of the citizens to decide when the final vote is taken. Before that vote is taken Aurora News Page will present its own point of view.

ROOT THEM OUT!

In a letter from Mr. Wm. E. Barker of King, published in Aurora News Page on March 6, the adverse effects of the meters on trading in Aurora were clearly indicated. Commenting on the $513 collected from parking violations since the meters were installed Mr. Barker said: "The revenue from the meters might help reduce the mill rate for Aurora, yet at the same time it might reduce the amount of money spent in Aurora by your country cousins."

Every one of these forbidding scraps of iron stuck up in the streets of Aurora is an unfriendly fist shaken in the faces of visitors and countryside shoppers. "Pay up or clear out" is the adamant demand of these diminutive stacks that threaten residents and visitors alike, that if they don't shell out their coppers they can't stay to shop.

Put it another way. Over the doorway of a friend's house hangs a "Welcome Here" sign, but before you get inside there's another sign which says: "Before you can stay here you must place a coin in the box on the wall." What sort of a friendly welcome would that be?

The meters have extinguished the old friendly feeling that has grown up with Aurora's development. Pay up or clear out, and before you get out the agile constable has soaked you with a fine. Pity the constable who has to do his unpleasant duty; but pity more the loss of Aurora's old-time friendliness.

The council should root out these menacing mendicants that are steadily destroying Aurora's reputation as a friendly old town where country neighbors meet; and root them out before they do further mischief. They are an affront to good neighborliness.

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING

Much Money Believed Being Dumped In Aurora To Bolster Liquor And Beer Campaigns

This column exists primarily for the reporting of what responsible people are saying on local matters, but who do not necessarily wish their names to be published for various good reasons. Such people are not crusaders but they are very much concerned over what may take place in the town where many of them were born, have long residence here, or in other instances count Aurora as their permanent abode.

Aurora is not a cosmopolitan town. There are many families here whose forebears belonged to the early pioneering days when Aurora was known as Matchville. There are very old families in this town of Aurora and they are proud of their native community and are rightly jealous of any changes and innovations that would alter its character.

Aurora is a town of character. It has reached its present status by slow developments and many of its responsible citizens want nothing better than that this evolutionary course should continue. They have no sympathy with certain semi-hysterical crackpots who are anxious to see Aurora "bursting at the seams," to quote the bad English of the irresponsibles.

Liquor and Beer
Some responsible people are saying that the controversial question of a liquor and beer outlet for this town originated last year when contacts are said to have taken place between representatives of the liquor and beer interests and at least two of the town service organizations.

The service organizations mentioned are the Board of Trade and the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The important point is, as set forth by people professing to know what they are talking about, that the question of a liquor and beer warehouse originated outside of Aurora and was later co-opted by a group that baptised itself in the somewhat compelling name of the "Aurora Civic Progress Committee." Even this name, it is being said, was not native-born but was coined outside of Aurora.

A "Civic Progress Committee" is a very attractive title. At first sight it might suggest that its sponsors were troubled over such matters as the lack of good reading material in the town library; better sidewalks for the citizens; reduction in the mill rate; a demand for less secrecy on the part of the school boards in the spending of the ratepayers' money; enquiry into the hydro secret society through the attendance of the press.

The "Aurora Civic Progress Committee" is not concerned with any of such things; it is concerned only with liquor and beer and the means whereby it can be obtained right here in Aurora. According to the claims of this "committee" Aurora will enjoy a great forward movement in "civic progress" once it has become possible for citizens to run down to Main street and acquire as much or more liquor and beer as they can get by going north to Bradford.

"Civic Progress Committee" is the most complete example of a misnomer that we have met with in our experience. If the sponsors had been honest about it they would have called themselves "The Liquor and Beer Committee" and with equal honesty have signed their names to the manifesto calling for the release of it in the town of Aurora.

Unpleasant Rumors
The secrecy in which this "jumping the gun" committee sprang to life, and made public by an anonymous advertisement which the Aurora Banner was pleased to accept and we refused, has created many unpleasant rumors. So much so that it is being said that the misnomer "Civic Progress Committee" is the offspring of interests not concerned at all with Aurora's civic progress but with their own personal and collective interests.

In the early part of this year the writer was informed by a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce that the subject of a liquor and beer outlet for Aurora was likely to be a matter of discussion among his fellow-members. We did not pay too much significance to the matter at the time and did not think about it until the anonymous advertisement appeared in the Aurora Banner.

The whole point of this reference is that the proposal to install a liquor and beer warehouse in Aurora did not presumably arise with the speed of the growth of a mushroom but has been in the process of development over a considerable period.

Aurora Social News

Miss Mary Bowman addressed the W.A. of the United church on Thursday, March 13, taking as her subject the broadcasts of his late Majesty King George VI. Miss Bowman's address was deeply appreciated by her listeners. Also greatly appreciated were two numbers sung by the ladies' quartette of the 50-50 club.

Ronnie Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Smith, was on a weekend visit from North Bay to his parents.

Members of Trinity church parish guild were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. M. Cody.

Loring Doolittle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Doolittle, is receiving congratulations on his appointment as baseball umpire for the Mountain State League, Kentucky, Virginia. He was selected for the position by the president of the State league, and was a first choice from a school of 185. His appointment is for a two-year term and will necessitate a good deal of travel. His duties will commence on May 1. For the present he has returned to his home from the United States.

Mrs. Joan Diamond, assistant town clerk, slipped on the icy sidewalks on Sunday, March 16, and severely fractured a wrist.

Mrs. Marshall Lyons of Scarborough Bluffs visited Mrs. B. Willis on St. Patrick's Day.

Mrs. Walter Dunning is giving a shower for Miss Joan Swindle whose marriage takes place next month.

Miss Vivian Wilcox, fashion editor of Mayfair, gave an interesting talk at the evening branch of the W.A. at the United church. She reviewed in detail her work in connection with the securing of glamorous fashion effects, which necessitated a great deal of travel.

58th Wedding Anniversary

February 28 was a happy occasion for Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Manning of Maple. It was their 58th wedding anniversary when they were joined by their family, Mrs. Manning's brothers and sister and most of her grandchildren. There was a large bouquet of roses from the family and cards and congratulations from old friends and neighbors.

Mr. Manning is still very active at 83, while his wife who is 77, must be careful of her health. They enjoy their comfortable home in Maple village which Mr. Manning built nearly 30 years ago. Moderate living contributes to peace of mind in later years of one's life, they maintain. An interest in hobbies is important. Mr. Manning has his garden and lawns in summer and "plenty of chores" in the winter.

Mrs. Manning has achieved a record in rugging. She has designed and hooked over a hundred, and piecing quilts is a regular pastime. Her children and grandchildren all benefit from her crafts. "There are always new ideas to work out, and combination of colors is always fascinating," she states.

The couple were married at Teston, in 1894 at the bride's home when she was Edith Cooper. Rev. J. A. Dunlop of Sherwood Lutheran church was the minister. Both were raised in Vaughan township, farming near Maple for 28 years, until retirement in the village.

Their children are Howard of Guelph, George at Aurora, and one daughter, Mrs. Roy Fierheller, of Aurora. There are seven grandchildren and five great grandchildren. Their granddaughter, Mrs. Murray Young of Willowdale (Lorraine Fierheller) is a fine singer, and her recent radio appearances give the grandparents much pleasure.

40TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Corner, Aurora, celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary on March 5 at their home on Wellington St., when they entertained about 30 relatives to a buffet supper. Mr. G. McEachren was the caterer.

Mr. and Mrs. Corner were very active in community work in Pefferlaw in Georgian township before moving to Aurora in 1914. Mr. Corner was councillor and reeve for several years prior to his election as warden of York County in 1938. He is a member of the Masonic order.

Mrs. Corner was a Sunday school teacher for a number of years, member of W.M.S., I.O.B.A., and a past district president in Pefferlaw of the Women's Institute North York centre. They are members of the United church in Aurora.

Proof Is In The Figures

When you are considering which is the best local advertising medium, it is advisable to be guided by the sales of newspapers and the amount of advertising carried by them. Guaranteed figures are a proof of circulation and public confidence.

The following figures for the month of February, covering only small classified ads, provide convincing proof of the overwhelming popularity of the Era and Express over the Aurora Banner.

Era and Express, February	7	Classified 127	Aurora Banner	34
" " " "	14	" 161	" "	40
" " " "	21	" 82	" "	38
" " " "	28	" 115	" "	33

170

For the previous month, January 1952, the classified ads appearing in the Era and Express totalled 452 as against 156 appearing in the Aurora Banner. In the two months of 1952 the Era and Express has carried no less than 940 classified ads in comparison with 326 carried by the Aurora Banner. Advertise in the paper which most people read.

OBITUARY Rev. G. C. Little

For more than 50 years a Presbyterian minister, Rev. Gilbert Carter Little died on Thursday, Mar. 6, 1952, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Dunstan, 10 Roxborough Rd., Newmarket. He was in his 82nd year and was active until the last few months. On Monday, Mar. 3, he suffered a severe stroke.

He was born in Galt in 1870, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Little. In 1898, he married Annie Robertson, who predeceased him in 1948.

He began his work on a mission field in Manitoba and held charges in Ontario in Bothwell, Paisley, Flesherton, Guelph, Hanover and Alliston. He retired to live in Islington, but after the death of his wife, came to live with his daughter in Newmarket.

He was a member of Kingsway Presbyterian church. His whole life was devoted to Christian service and he inspired many others to enter the ministry.

Surviving are two sons, Mr. John Little, Brampton, and Rev. Gilbert Little of Kingsway Presbyterian church, Toronto; two daughters, May (Mrs. D. McKillican), Markham, and Jean (Mrs. Wm. Dunstan), Newmarket; and seven grandchildren.

The funeral service took place on Saturday, Mar. 8, at Thomas Funeral Home, Alliston, and were conducted by Rev. A. E. Thompson, Toronto, Rev. H. P. Maitland, Alliston, and Rev. Ferguson, Barrie, who represented Barrie Presbytery of which Mr. Little was a member for 13 years.

Interment was in Alliston Union cemetery.

Floral tributes were received from Brampton Presbyterian church, Kingsway Presbyterian church, Toronto, St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Markham, Knox church, Alliston, Mansfield Presbyterian church, St. Andrew's church, Newmarket, Brampton District High School Board.

Four Sections Plan To Build New School

The erection of a central school of five rooms will be started this spring to accommodate the children of four school sections, Jamieson, Blackburn, Kettleby and Glenville. The movement gives King Township its first school area.

At a meeting of ratepayers of these sections, 6, 12, 11 and 9, held in Kettleby Parish Hall on March 14, approval of the school site was given by a vote of 70 to 16. The site chosen by a selection committee representing the four school boards, is on the property of Sky-Line Farms, west of the fifth concession, north of the Schomberg-Aurora highway and just east of the new Barrie highway. It will comprise 8 to 10 acres to cost the sections $3,000. Five acres of this land can be purchased for $2,500 while the remaining 3 to 5 acres, which are yet to be surveyed can be bought for $500.

The department of highways has agreed to pay 50 percent of the cost of building which is estimated, will cost at least $110,000. The department of education pays 40 percent of the cost. The highways department has agreed to give a cash grant of $50,000 with the remaining portion of their obligation to follow. The school sections will make up the difference. Each pays 25 percent of the site cost.

There are two reasons for the formation of a central school area, said Harry Burns of Kettleby, secretary of the four-board planning committee. When the department of highways closes the side roads in S.S. 12 and S.S. 6 that lead to the Barrie highway, the children of these areas would be greatly inconvenienced. They would be required to pass around these roads to reach their schools. This situation, however, would not affect Kettleby and Glenville schools.

The present and future population of the schools at Kettleby, Jamieson and Blackburn indicates that new additions would have to be made to these buildings. "This would be very costly," said Mr. Burns, who pointed out that the idea of forming a school area in this part of the township was discussed in 1950.

The total assessment of the four sections is $892,725. A bus transportation system will be used to carry the scholars to the new school. The four trustee boards of 12 members will continue to function until the township municipal election is held in December, 1952, when a central board of five members will be elected.

One of the first steps necessary is to obtain an architect's sketch plans for the one storey building. The agreement with the department of highways has been formally signed. It is hoped the school will be ready for use by January, 1953, Mr. Burns, stated.

MONTREAL—Something to keep the family happy in this gloomy season between Winter and Spring? Good food will do the trick every time! That's why I make a point of serving extra-delicious, extra-nourishing JELL-O PUDDING desserts when I particularly want to please the folks. It's just like a party when you serve milk-rich Jell-O Puddings—they offer so much variety and they're so wonderfully tempting. The youngsters particularly will love all the flavours—Vanilla, Chocolate, Butterscotch and Caramel. And don't forget the three wonderful Jell-O Tapioca Puddings. Minimal—good and good for you! And a Jell-O Pudding is easily one of the most economical and simple-to-prepare desserts you can serve.

Do You Often Wish someone would step out of the blue and manage your money for you? Such wishing calls for a "Fairy Godmother," and they're in very short supply, I've found! But there are many BANK OF MONTREAL branches—over 570—and any one of these will gladly help you manage your money like an expert. There's no need for a magic wand, when you can count on B of M Savings Accounts to help you save for a rainy day... Sunshine Accounts to help you save for a sunny day (that real vacation you've promised yourself)... Travellers Cheques to help you enjoy your vacation without worry... and Personal Planning—the know-how of a wonderful money-management system that makes every dollar out-do itself for you. So why not visit your neighborhood B of M branch today and ask for your free copy of "Personal Planning." Pick up a copy of "21 Ways A Million Canadians Use the B of M" at the same time... and discover just how many B of M services are specially designed to help you!

THAT Was Quick Work... and to think you could barely crawl out of bed this morning! But a sparkling glass of SALT LEPATICA before breakfast has made a new woman of you. Yes, with speedily Salt Hepatica you avoid "Laxative Lag"—that feeling of stomach discomfort that often goes on for hours! It's ordinary, slow-acting laxatives bring relief. It's pleasant to take, too—sparkling clear and gentle on the bowels. So take my tip—when you feel sluggish or headachy—remember this easy, pleasant-tasting remedy that leaves you feeling like a million in no time at all! Effective and safe for all members of your family, Salt Hepatica is a product of Bristol-Myers, who also make BUFFERIN pain relief tablets.

I Feel Like Saying "Thanks a Million" to the Blue-Jay Folks for giving us wonderful Phenyltium. It's the greatest scientific discovery in years for people who suffer from corns and calluses. And Blue-Jay have put it in their famous Corn and Callus Plasters to give us comfortable feet. It took ten years of scientific research for Blue-Jay to develop this wonder-working medication. Now scientific tests show that it ends 55% of corns and calluses in record time... quicker than any other treatment. Ask your druggist today for BLUE-JAY Corn Plasters with Phenyltium and end your foot-worries forever.

Next Time Granny sniffs at those "new-fangled" tea-bags, just tell her they're not really so new. They were patented in London at about the time she married Granddaddy! Then convince her of how good tea—yes, tea in tea-bags—can be. Give her a cup of delicious RED ROSE TEA. Or you can buy Red Rose Tea by the pound, if you wish. It's good no matter how you buy it—good no matter how you serve it. And, because it's tea of the highest quality—it gives you more cups per pound—its flavour goes a long, long way. A cup of Red Rose Tea costs less than a cent, including the cream and sugar! When you're ordering Red Rose Tea—ask for Red Rose Coffee, too. It's every bit as good as Red Rose Tea.

If You Had A Penny for all the poems that have been written about beautiful hands—you'd probably be a "millionaire." And it's not only poets who notice their ladies' hands... most men do. So it's not surprising that women are so enthusiastic about SNAP HAND CLEANSER. Snap removes all hard-to-get-off dirt in a flash—yes, even the "smudges" left on your hands after a bout of brass or silverware-polishing! Yet Snap is kind to your hands. You see, it contains three "magic" ingredients—fine Italian pumice and pure soap for cleansing—plus gentle glycerin for conditioning. That's why so many women depend on Snap Hand Cleanser to keep their hands beautiful—always.

Bring The "Spirit Of Spring" right to the dinner table with sparkling JELL-O desserts. Desserts made with Jell-O Jelly Powders are irresistible—because the flavour is so fresh and delicious. You see, the flavour is locked right in each tiny particle until you release it by adding hot water to the Jell-O. Seven exciting "locked-in" flavours give you glorious variety. And, did you know—Jell-O costs only 2c a serving! Try...

BANANA FOAM (So easy to make!)
1 package Jell-O (any flavour)
1 cup hot water
1 cup cold water
2 teaspoons sugar
1 egg white, stiffly beaten with dash of salt
Dissolve Jell-O in hot water. Add cold water. Turn into sherbet glasses. Chill until firm. Just before serving, crush banana to pulp with silver fork, add sugar, fold into egg white and beat well. Top Jell-O with banana mixture. Serves 6.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

Last week it was a world of guiding, scouting and cubbing for us. Other activities were sandwiched into the rare intervals of free time between Scout-Guide events.

Indeed, from many a Newmarket household this world-wide youth movement was demanding an unusual share of attention. Mothers of the youngsters in all forms of scouting and cubbing were present on Monday night for the regular meeting of their auxiliary. Earlier in the evening 51 Brownies with their leaders, Mrs. Sherrard and Mrs. Hayes, had rocked the Scout hall with some of their rollicking games and songs.

Guides under their leaders' direction presented the program at the Monday auxiliary meeting and were present for their regular weekly meeting on Wednesday night when the newly appointed Badge secretary, Mrs. Arleigh Armstrong, was in attendance to meet the Guides working for their proficiency badges. With her was the treasurer of the Guide Local Association, Mrs. Gordon Cook. Both of these ladies assisted in passing Guides in their safety tests during the evening.

The following two nights were the Scout and Cub Father and Son banquets and on Saturday a training day for Guide patrol leaders and seconds was held at the Scout hall. (Can't imagine how they forgot Tuesday in that whirl of activities.)

Although we were present at most of the affairs listed above, we escaped much of the work involved. We attended the banquets in an official capacity and in that capacity devoured a delicious meal without having worked in its preparation.

Other mothers had baked pies or made scallop potatoes. They came to the Scout hall in the afternoon to set tables, decorate and arrange all the details connected with serving meals to large groups of hungry men and boys. Then they returned home to prepare the regular supper for the remainder of the family, returning to the Scout hall in time to serve the banquet piping hot to the boys and their dads. Even then they were not free to go home for the stacks of dishes beckoned to them.

But when enthusiasm in boys' and girls' work is high and willing workers volunteer their service such strenuous weeks are managed. The 21 ladies present to serve on Friday night went home feeling very happy for their share in such a worthwhile effort. The good comradeship built between father and son through the sharing of such experiences is reward enough to any mother.

So often assistance is wanting in youth work. Leaders struggle to carry the load when a few more willing workers would change the duty to a pleasant experience for all. Mr. Wass, who has been associated with cubbing in Newmarket for years, reported on the pack's activities this past year. He told of how

CAPT. RUTH BEST ADDRESSES GROUP

Capt. Ruth Best, Newmarket Salvation Army, was the guest speaker at the March meeting of the Evangeline auxiliary, W.M.S., Trinity United church. Held in the schoolroom with a very good attendance, Mrs. W. E. Walton, the president, was in the chair. Mrs. Walston opened the meeting with prayer.

Mrs. J. E. Morris conducted the worship service. A poem, "No Time For God" was read, followed by the hymn, "Take Time to be Holy". Mrs. W. J. Geer read a scripture passage from the gospel of St. Matthew.

Miss Vera Belugin, the soloist, was unable to be present because of illness. The guest speaker, Capt. Ruth Best, told of her work in Bermuda, where she spent four years before coming to Newmarket. For awhile Capt. Best was associated with a school for delinquent girls, and the remainder of the time she spent working with the colored people of the Island.

Bermuda is thickly populated, mostly Negro. It is a very picturesque island and a wonderful resort spot for tourists, but Capt. Best told of the work of the "Army," which wasn't always pleasant. Her talk was illustrated with pictures and things she had collected while there. Everybody enjoyed hearing of her experiences.

PLAN BAZAAR AND TEA
The St. Patrick's meeting of the Junior Ladies' aid, Christian Baptist church, Newmarket, was held on Tuesday, March 11, at the home of Mrs. Bohmer Groves. Mrs. James Ennis and Mrs. Herbert Rideout were in charge of the meeting.

Mrs. Robert Dick, president, was in the chair. Plans were discussed for the annual spring bazaar, which will be held in conjunction with the blossom tea on May 8.

At the close of the business session a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Groves, Mrs. Edna Townsley, Mrs. William Epworth, Mrs. Jack McArthur and Mrs. Ivo Raimm.

HEAR MRS. BOWMAN
Mrs. Dorothy Bowman was guest speaker at the March meeting of the Women's association, Trinity United church, Newmarket. Mrs. Bowman spoke on "Developing the Special Child".

In charge of the music for the program was the church organist, Norman Hurlie. The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. Robert Pritchard, with the Beatitudes being used as the theme.

SPONSOR SPRING TEA
A spring tea and sale of home baking will be held tomorrow afternoon, Friday, Mar. 21, under the auspices of the Evangeline auxiliary, W.M.S., Trinity United church, Newmarket. Tea will be served from 3 to 5 p.m. There will be a supervised nursery.
